Work Loan From Ottawa Reported To Be Doubtful

Premier Pattullo Asks Early Answer to British Columbia Request For Federal Financial Aid, Saying Ministers Have Been in Ottawa For Week

Alberta Asking Substantial Aid

By Times Staff Correspondent
Ottawa, April 30.—Premier Pattullo to-day asked Premier Bennett for an early answer to British Columbia's request for large federal loans, pointing out that half of the British Columbia government has been waiting here a full week for this reply. Mr. Pattullo said he and his colleagues were anxious to return to Victoria to get on with their work.

At Mr. Bennett's Office It Was Stated The Prime Minister might have an announcement later in the day.

The general outstanding continued to be that the province would get enough federal money to finance deficits and the unemployment dole, but not the large extension of credit to cover a provincial war and wages programme on which Mr. Pattullo has set his heart.

If he fails to get federal backing for this plan, Mr. Pattullo proposes drastic plans of his own under the Special Powers Act.

Meanwhile it was understood western cabinet ministers, led by Hon. H. H. Stevens, were advocating a new measure of aid in the form of a federal guarantee behind a refunding of debts of the four western provinces.

ALBERTA'S REQUEST

British Columbia is not the only province demanding aid from Ottawa. Hon. J. E. Brownlee of Alberta arrived here this morning to ask even larger assistance than his western neighbors. The size of Mr. Brownlee's request (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

Hon. H. H. Stevens Suggests Hart Proposal For Western Provinces; Reduction of Interest Through Deal With Bondholders Is Aim

By Times Staff Correspondent
Ottawa, April 30.—Turned down by the inter-provincial conference, the British Columbia government found unexpected support in the federal cabinet to-day for its plan to refund its debt at a reduced interest rate.

It became known in Ottawa that Hon. H. H. Stevens was advocating in the cabinet the same plan as originally proposed by Hon. John Hart, but extended to cover debts of the four western provinces. This provides that the federal government underwrite a new issue of bonds to be floated to retire existing provincial debts, the bonds carrying reduced interest rates.

Ontario Liberal Leader Charges Station Owner Tried To "Browbeat" Him Into Revealing Address; No Interference, Says Charlesworth

Canadian Press
Milton, Ont., April 30.—Mitchell H. Hepburn, M.P. for West Elgin, Ont., and Liberal leader, charged in an address here Saturday evening that the Canadian Radio Commission had tried to "browbeat" him and Harry C. Nixon, M.P.E., Ontario Progressive leader, into submitting their manuscripts for scrutiny and editing before they spoke on the air.

Speaking before the Halton County Liberal convention, Mr. Hepburn said no one was satisfied with the commission.

MANY SEEK WAGE LAWS

Industrial Relations Board Hears Representations From Numerous Groups

The Board of Industrial Relations put in an intensive session in Vancouver last week-end, hearing representations from six different classifications of employment.

Wage orders arising from these hearings will not be fixed for some time, Adam Bell, chairman, said this morning. Another meeting of the board will take place in the near future to determine the action.

Taxicab operators on the mainland are seeking minimum wage scales as well as a code of ethics. Since a move is also being made locally through the City Council for regulation of this business, there is possibility of joint action.

Barbers and bakers met the board and outlined their difficulties, asking for codes and wage minimums.

The case of the shingle manufacturing industry was also taken up. This is expected to be the subject of the next order issued by the board, the proposal being that the scale be fixed in line with the N.R.A. wages paid in the U.S., as a large amount of the B.C. output is shipped to that country.

Fruit and vegetable canners, both employers and employees made lengthy representations.

The board held six sittings all told, three on Friday and three on Saturday. The next session will be in Victoria.

U.S. DOLLAR LOSES IN LONDON

London, April 30. (Associated Press).—The United States dollar lost 1/2 of a cent sterling to the pound here to-day, closing at $1.14. Gold valued at $68.00 ($3,267,638.50) changed hands purely on a supply demand basis at a price of 135 shillings 8 pence ($84.92), a fine ounce. A decline of one penny.

APPEAL TO ABDUCTORS

Associated Press
Tucson, Ariz., April 30.—Bernabe Robles, seventy-three-year-old grandfather of kidnapped June Robles, six, returned at noon to-day from a mysterious errand in the interior of Sonora, Mexico, and spokesmen for the family appealed publicly to the abductors, declaring money to meet the $15,000 ransom demand "will be ready" when a contract is arranged.

The grizzled former cattle baron's sudden reappearance after his unexplained Mexico trip of a night and half a day was almost simultaneous with the kidnapping of his grandchild, and he was being made known to the family, and that final details, including the preparations of the ransom money, had awaited only the grandfather's return.

NEW LIMITATION PLAN FOR RUBBER

London, April 30.—Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, Secretary for the Colonies, announced in the House of Commons late to-day the British Government had decided to take the steps necessary to put into effect a rubber limitation agreement, provided other producing nations would act similarly.

A Garden of Compact Beauty In Fairfield

One of the show places in the Fairfield district is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Steele, 57 Howe St. The gardens which surround the house and occupy two lots have been developed in the last few years with rockeries, fish pools, a wealth of color and many Japanese plants.

Believe Dillinger One Of Gunmen Who Disarmed Officers

Chase Ends in Escape of Four Thugs and Blow on Head With Machine Gun For One of Pursuing Police in Chicago Suburb

Associated Press
Chicago, April 30.—Four gunmen climaxed a two-mile chase with a hand-to-hand battle with police in suburban Belwood early to-day—and the officers said one of the four, all of whom escaped, "looked like" John Dillinger, the hunted killer.

Another of them, said Police Lieutenant Joseph Hagemaster, resembled George "Baby Face" Nelson, the little gunman of the Dillinger gang, and a third bore a likeness to Henry Fox, another Dillinger aide.

The chase ended when the hoodlums disarmed the officers. One of the men hit Policeman Harry Whalen over the head with a machine gun before speeding away into the darkness with his companions.

Whalen and two other officers, Hagemaster and Policeman Gus Mendez, began the chase in a police car when the gunmen's machine failed to halt at a red light. The police caught up when the other machine pulled up at a filling station for gasoline.

Two of the gunmen jumped out. One, armed with a machine gun, forced the three officers to give up their weapons and struck Whalen. The others, from the car, held machine guns on the officers.

Card In Mail For 35 Years

Victorian To-day Receives Message Posted In England In 1899

What George Inglew's 117 Media Street, believes stands as a record for some time for slow mail delivery, in contrast with fast delivery over long distances by air-mail, was set up to-day when his mother received at her home on Beach Drive a post card mailed to her from Norwich, England, in 1899.

The card was actually mailed to Mrs. Inglew while she was on a visit in London. After lingering in the British post office for thirty-five years, it turned up at this London address early this month and from there was sent on to Victoria.

Mr. Inglew figured out that the card, which had been covered by the post card since the moment it was dropped into the box in England was around one-third of a mile.

April Boasts Thirty-eight Hours More Than Average; Growing Well Advanced

Victorians were treated to thirty-eight hours more sunshine than they usually get in April during the month that closes to-day according to the monthly weather report released this morning by F. Napier Denison, superintendent at the Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill.

The rainfall during the month was just about average. The sun shone brilliantly and warmly for 240 hours and forty-two minutes. Usually in April it only shines for a little more than 200 hours.

A total of 1.05 inches of rain fell during April, which was 1/5 below the average. The mean temperature for the month was fifty-three degrees, which was five degrees above the average. The highest temperature was registered on April 19, when the thermometer rose to seventy-five degrees. On April 2 the lowest was registered, when it was thirty-six degrees. The lowest on the grass was twenty-eight degrees on April 2.

So much sunshine during March and April has brought out flowers in Victoria well ahead of their usual time. The lilacs, which usually bloom all through May, are almost over now, and the golden broom, for (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Asks Better Radio Service For City

D. B. Plunkett Complains in Commons That Victoria and Island Have Not Fair Representation on Air

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 30.—Better radio service for Victoria was demanded by D. B. Plunkett, Conservative, Victoria, before the Commons radio committee to-day.

License revenues from Victoria city and vicinity were approximately $14,000 a year, the member stated. License revenue for Vancouver Island, outside of Victoria city and vicinity, amounted to $11,000, based on the number of radio sets according to the last census.

The Radio Commission had station CROV at Vancouver, and in the provincial capital there was a privately-owned station, CROV, which had a license from the commission. Service from CROV had not been altogether satisfactory and was not equal to the demands and requirements of Victoria, which, incidentally, was the first and last port of call for vessels from Canada on the Pacific Coast and for tonnage stood third or fourth among all cities in Canada. At present it was not possible for any programme to be broadcast from Victoria in connection with programmes of the commission across Canada.

SPECIAL WIRE
"With the population of Victoria and Vancouver and revenue derived therefrom," urged Mr. Plunkett, "these financial returns should merit the provision of a special wire communication to Victoria and Vancouver Island may come within the compass of the commission. As the commission has not provided any communication to other cities, it should at least make suitable arrangements for wire communication between Victoria and Vancouver so a privately-owned station at Victoria should not have to carry the heavy burden of expenditure attached to the leading of such wire communication."

NEW GOLD TAX RULES DISCOVERED

Ottawa, April 30.—Prime Minister Bennett, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, and Hon. Charles McCrear, Ontario Minister of Mines, were in consultation to-day on the 10 per cent gold tax. Their deliberations were devoted to a study of the whole situation with a view to applying the tax in such a way as not to interfere with the small producers of low grade ore and the new ventures opened up within the last few months which could not succeed but for the high premium on gold.

At Chicago McLaughlin Admits He Handled $53,000 Of Bremer Money

Associated Press
Chicago, April 30.—John J. "Boss" McLaughlin has confessed handling $53,000 of the ransom collected from Edward Bremer, St. Paul banker, the federal bureau of investigation disclosed to-day.

McLaughlin was held in $100,000 bond Saturday for removal to St. Paul for trial under the "Lindbergh" Kidnapping Act.

His arrest followed recovery of $2,685 in $5 and $10 bills identified as part of the ransom money. The "hot" currency was found on William E. Vidler, a gambler, last Thursday.

CITIES IN U.S. TO GUARD STREETS

Police and soldiers of many lands were marshaled to-day for extraordinary duty as authorities girded for battle in outbreaks feared on May Day, according to Canadian Press and Associated Press dispatches received by The Times.

New York laid the most extensive plans in its history to guard against violence as parades were announced in which 200,000 marchers are expected. All police leaves were suspended. Communists and their sympathizers will form one parade, while Socialists and affiliated groups have planned the other.

Other North American cities made similar drastic precautionary preparations to-day while French mobilizations gave the country a war-time aspect.

MANY GUARDS IN PARIS
In Paris alone to-morrow 18,000 police, 10,000 mobile guards and 2,000 mounted guards will be ready for action if mobs take to the streets during a May Day general strike against recent government economy decrees.

Red flags and red signs popped out in many parts of Havana, calling on all classes to join in Communist May Day demonstrations in which 4,000 are expected to participate. There were rumors of radical anti-government plots.

FRASER RIVER AT HIGH LEVEL

Lillooet, B.C., April 30.—The Fraser River was reported at high water mark here to-day, one month earlier than usual. It was considered improbable, however there would be any danger of very high water as some of the creeks are now dropping.

The highest level ever recorded on the Fraser River here occurred in 1894 on May 30.

Swimmers Wear Trunks This Year

Trend of Fashion Shown At Gorge Bathing House Draws Crowd At Early Opening

Fashions of 1934 for men prescribe trunks for swimming. That, and the fact that the water at the Gorge this season is warmer than it has been so early in the year since pre-war days, were the outstanding observations of bathers at the opening of the City Bathing House to-day following the official opening of the changing quarters at the popular swimming hole yesterday.

About 150 swimmers, many of them already tanned to nearly bronze, availed themselves of the city's facilities at the formal opening of the "free" yesterday.

In the near future another load of sand will be dumped on the beach to improve conditions for those who are too fond of the deep water, Mr. Lock announced.

New equipment secured this year includes a special raft for the women's side of the building. Floors have been painted and the bathhouse has been put into good condition.

THAT ALL TIRED-OUT FEELING SHOWS NEED OF SPRING TONIC

Benefited Users Advise Others to Restore Health With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as They Have Done

There is a definite medical reason for that springtime "all-tired-out feeling." The system is suffering from oxygen starvation; the blood has been thinned and devitalized by winter living conditions, so that it isn't carrying the amount of oxygen required by the body tissues. That's why people are languid, listless, and easily fatigued at this season of the year. They are in need of a reliable proven blood builder which will quickly correct this condition.

Thousands have found the answer in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This proven remedy actually creates new red blood, and invigorates and purifies the blood stream so that it again carries energizing oxygen throughout the system, banishing the lassitude and fatigue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke, Hastings, Ont., writes: "I use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring, when one naturally feels rundown after our long winter. Last spring, I was feeling weak and easily tired. I took Pink Pills with the result that I have had splendid health since."
"I always take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring to build me up for the hot weather. I cheerfully recommend these Pills as the best of health-builders," writes Mrs. L. Hupman, Summerville Centre, N.S.
"I keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house all the time and take them every spring as a tonic," writes Miss Anna Murphy, St. Catharines, Ont.
Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and experience for yourself the new strength and vigor they will bring you. At your druggist's in the new glass container, 50c a package. (Adv.)

Britain Satisfied Japan Not Barring China's Open Door

STORM BLOWS OVER
The storm over the Japanese declaration, already considerably deflated by official Japanese explanations, thus ended so far as the United Kingdom—with a bigger stake in China than any other foreign power—is concerned.

The Foreign Secretary revealed to a packed House and the country at large the outcome of the British representations to Japan that had speedily followed the unofficial April 17 statement, in which the Tokyo government was represented as ready to use force if necessary to prevent international dealings with China which Japan might consider likely to lead to a breach of the peace in Asia.

Sir John said Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador in Tokyo, had pointed out to Koki Hirota, the Japanese Foreign Minister, the principle of equal rights in China was very explicitly guaranteed by the Nine-Power Treaty signed at Washington in 1922, to which Japan was a signatory.

The British ambassador had explained the British government's attitude to the situation in China would not apply to the United Kingdom, since it was the aim and policy of the British government to avoid dangers to peace in the Far East, and to maintain the integrity of China.

The British ambassador further inquired whether the British government was correct in assuming Japan had no intention of infringing the rights of other powers in China.
To Sir M. Hirota replied, according to Sir John, "this assumption was correct."

Japan, the British government had been assured, intended to observe the provisions of the Nine-power Treaty. Further, Japan attached the greatest importance to the policy of the open door in China, and Sir John reaffirmed her acceptance of that policy.

Sir John concluded his brief explanation and then in reply to a supplementary question declared that, in view of the statement of the Japanese Foreign Minister, the British government was prepared to leave the matter as it stood.

By Glenn Babb, Associated Press Foreign Staff
Tokyo, April 30.—The Japanese public will be kept in the dark, officially at least, concerning the note in which Great Britain and the United States were reassured concerning Japan's intentions in China.

A Foreign Office attache told the Associated Press the government at present had no intention of publishing the note, explaining it is unnecessary since Sir John Simon was making it public in London to-day.
Observers were quick to point out, however, that by not releasing the statement to the Japanese press and public, the government would thereby escape the domestic and political consequences of what might be interpreted as a partial retraction of the Foreign Office China policy declaration of April 17.

The note, presented April 26 to Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador, and the United States ambassador, Joseph C. Grew, was phrased in more conciliatory terms than that of April 17. It was described as the only official interpretation of the earlier declaration of the "Hands off China" policy by a Foreign Office spokesman.

It is understood, however, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, talking to the Chinese ambassador, Chiang Tse-ling, on April 26, and Akira Arisaka, Japanese Minister to China, in interviews with Chinese leaders in Shanghai recently, vigorously presented Japan's position along the lines of the "Hands off China" tenor of the April 17 announcement.

which Victoria is famous, is now out in all its glory. Usually it is not in bloom until towards the end of May. The Hawthorn and may trees are also in flower, and fruit trees have finished blossoming. But summer flowers are well on the way, and snapdragons and Canterbury bells and sweet peas will be along before the middle of May at the present rate.

Swimming about Victoria is an accepted fact by this time, although Victorians have never donned bathing suits quite so early as this before. Yesterday there were hundreds of people acquiring coats of tan along the beaches of the waterfront.

SENATOR IS COMMITTED

A. E. Planta to Answer Charge of Fraudulent Conversion in Higher Court

Canadian Press
Nanaimo, B.C., April 30.—Senator A. E. Planta was formally committed for trial by the next court of competent jurisdiction when he appeared to-day before Stipendiary Magistrate C. H. Beaver Potts on a charge of fraudulent conversion.

Sensor Planta was later brought before Judge C. H. Barker in County Court and elected for trial by jury. He was released on bail of $500.

Evidence given at the preliminary hearing before Magistrate Potts on Saturday was to the effect that Senator Planta had obtained from Mrs. L. Bernard of Nanaimo three blank mortgage forms in 1929 and had allegedly told her he would obtain $700 for her as a loan.

Mrs. Bernard stated she had later told Mr. Planta she did not need the money and she claimed he had secured the mortgage forms had been torn up.

Henry Abo testified he had given Mr. Planta $700 on the mortgage signed by Mrs. Bernard. He said he had received the interest quarterly, but that he had discovered in March that Mrs. Bernard had never received the money and did not know the mortgage existed.

STRIKE BROKEN ON WEST COAST

Pickets Are Withdrawn and Striking Loggers Leave Great Central Area

Port Alberni, B.C., April 30.—The strike of loggers at Camp Three, Great Central Sawmills Ltd., has been broken. Pickets here and at the lake camp left Saturday evening for Nanaimo and Campbell River. Thirty of the men arrived by truck at the latter point at midnight Saturday, the motor truck leaving again for the south presumably to pick up other pickets.

Before leaving, strikers said a change of policy had been declared by the central committee at Vancouver, in view of the announcement by Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, that the government would take no further steps in the dispute unless both men and operators requested mediation.

It is believed efforts of the strikers will be concentrated at Campbell River.

The force of men at work in the slashing at Camp Three was increased to 118 this morning and additional workers are expected during the week.

Strikers who have been picketing at Camp Three, Great Central, were reported to-day to have disappeared from the vicinity. An additional eight men reported for work at the camp this morning and operations are being continued with extra crews.

While provincial police believe the move of the strikers is a general indication they are disappointed with the flat refusal of the working men to join them, they are prepared for any mass gatherings on the island and in snow in commemoration of May Day.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT
Ottawa, April 30.—The Radio Commission has the right to require anyone speaking over the air to submit his address in advance, but we have never required any political speaker to do so," said Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission, when informed of a dispatch from Milton, Ont., quoting Mitchell F. Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal leader, as charging the commission with attempting to "browbeat" him.

Neither Mr. Hepburn nor any other political leader had ever been asked to submit a speech for scrutiny by the commission, said Mr. Charlesworth. He did not know of the incident the Liberal leader referred to when he said he spoke "from Ottawa recently." Certainly he had not spoken from the commission's Ottawa station.

Radio Commission Called Tory Organ

LOOKS TO ELECTION
They tried to browbeat us and I challenge the Tory government through its adjunct the Radio Commission to attempt to control the air in the impending election. It is the most contemptible of the Tories' service of the public. He was rewarded for writing editorials and gets $14,000 a year. Then there are two others, getting $10,000 each, and a publicity man getting $6,000 who once sat in the press gallery to write for them."

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT
Ottawa, April 30.—The Radio Commission has the right to require anyone speaking over the air to submit his address in advance, but we have never required any political speaker to do so," said Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission, when informed of a dispatch from Milton, Ont., quoting Mitchell F. Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal leader, as charging the commission with attempting to "browbeat" him.

Neither Mr. Hepburn nor any other political leader had ever been asked to submit a speech for scrutiny by the commission, said Mr. Charlesworth. He did not know of the incident the Liberal leader referred to when he said he spoke "from Ottawa recently." Certainly he had not spoken from the commission's Ottawa station.

RULES Laid DOWN
The commission had laid down certain rules to guard against "abuse and scurrility on the air," said Mr. Charlesworth. In the case of political speeches so far the station owners had been held responsible for their own conduct and no difficulties had arisen.

CLASHES SEEN IN IRELAND

Disorders at Political Meetings; Speakers' Platform Burned

Dublin, April 30.—A series of disorders ending in several minor casualties marked a week-end of political meetings in the Irish Free State. When General Eoin O'Duffy, leader of the United Ireland Party, went to Mohill to address a big meeting, he found the speakers' platform had been burned by men who were routed by police after a clash in which batons were generously wielded. Some shots were fired during the melee, but no one was wounded.

PASTOR SCORES WIDE GAMBLING

Playing Bridge For Money and Speculating on Margin Included in Condemnation

Canadian Press
London, Ont., April 30.—After expressing his anxiety to learn gambling houses had been operating in London, Rev. Dr. D. C. MacGregor, from the pulpit of St. Andrew's United Church yesterday, launched a plain spoken attack on all forms of gambling and he classed playing bridge for money and the holding of raffles by churches as being among them. Speculation in stocks on margin he also included.

His sermon, he explained, was prompted by the bill to legalize sweepstakes now before the Parliament of Canada. Dr. MacGregor said he was aware some churches "gambled" in the form of raffles to raise money. "May God grant no one in this church would ever do that," the speaker said. "The church of Christ must stand up and call sin by its right name. It must never be compromised. It is necessary to remember that we are careful of our own example. "One cannot help but regret that the Senate, with very little to do and supposed to represent age and experience, should have sponsored this bill," he said, referring to the sweepstakes bill, "which, if it became law, would go far to demoralize our citizenship."

RUBBER OUTPUT TO BE RESTRICTED

London, April 30.—An agreement to restrict and regulate rubber production in the Asiatic tropics was announced at the week-end by the Rubber Growers' Association. It affects colonies owned by Great Britain, Holland and France.

With conclusion of negotiations, the association announced the agreement would be submitted to the respective governments with the request that legislative effect be given to its provisions. Export quotas, not yet made public, were assigned to each territory, and further planting was prohibited under the agreement, except for experimental purposes. Replanting was limited to an equivalent of twenty per cent of the existing planted area.

RENOVATING HENRY VII'S CHAPEL

The splendors of Henry VII's Chapel in Westminster Abbey have for some time past been hidden from visitors behind dust sheets and steel scaffolding. Now about a year after the renovation of the Chapel was begun, all loose and dangerous masonry in the roof has been made secure. There remains the cleaning of stonework and woodwork of the chapel, and this calls for so much intricate work that another year will pass before the splendor of the carving will be visible. Our picture shows weak places in the pendant brattishing on the great transverse ribs being strengthened with copper stitches.

A. M. D. Fairbairn's "Ebb Tide" Wins Praise in Dominion Drama Festival

By Ray Brown, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, April 30.—The Hart House Theatre, Toronto, triumphed in the Dominion Drama Festival Saturday evening. With "Michael," the mystic Russian one-act drama by Miles Maleson, group number three of the famous Toronto dramatic organization carried off the Beesborough Trophy and the enthusiastic commendation of James T. Grein, festival adjudicator.

The trophy for the best production in English, exclusive of the Beesborough winner, went to the Ottawa Drama League for its presentation of "Marco Millions." The winner of the best presentation in French was Le Cercle Moliere of Winnipeg with "Blanchette" by Eugene Brieux.

The Sir Barry Jackson trophy awarded to the group giving the best presentation of a Canadian play at the festival, goes to the Montreal Repertory Theatre for "All On a Summer's Day" by Martha Allan, and "Ebb Tide" by A. M. D. Fairbairn of Victoria, B.C.

The memento given by the Countess of Beesborough for the lady giving the best performance during the festival was awarded to Joan Miller of the Vancouver Little Theatre Association for her interpretation of the part of Queen Elizabeth in "Elizabeth the Queen."

Lady Beesborough's memento to the man giving the best performance was won by J. E. Adams, who played the part of the Dean of Stour in the Sarnia Drama League's production of John Galsworthy's "The Mob."

Finally, the cash prize of $100 to the author of the best play judged as a dramatic composition, written by a person domiciled in Canada and presented during the festival, was awarded to Captain Ramsey of Banff for his play, "Coercion." Honorable mention was made of "All On a Summer's Day" by Martha Allan, and "Ebb Tide" by A. M. D. Fairbairn of Victoria, B.C. Subsequently a number of the trophies were presented.

New Constitution For Austria Voted

Trial By Jury Disappears Under New System Approved To-day By Parliament

By Wade Werner, Associated Press Foreign Staff Writer

Vienna, April 30.—A favorable vote of 74 of the 155 members elected to Austria's Parliament to-day overwhelmingly approved the new Austrian constitution advocated by Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

With the constitution were approved 470 other laws decreed by the little Chancellor since he declared Parliament "dead of its own democracy" more than a year ago.

The only negative votes on the subject were cast by two Pan-Germans and the other Pan-Germans as well as the Agrarians and the seventy-two Socialists elected to Parliament were absent from the session. The Pan-Germans protested both the session and the balloting were illegal and unconstitutional. The seventy-five attending members could not constitute a quorum in a house numbering 155, they said.

Chairman Rudolf Ramek, authorized by Dr. Dollfuss's decree to call the session, explained, however, since the seventy-two Socialists had been outlawed, Parliament really numbered only ninety-one.

The seventy-six present were, therefore, he said, a sufficient quorum.

NO TRIAL BY JURY

Vienna, April 30.—Democracy's old friend, the ballot box, will still have a place in Austria after the proclamation of the new constitution voted by Parliament to-day, but trial by jury will be abolished.

Women will vote the same as men, but neither will be permitted to do so except when the government desires an indication of popular opinion. The press will be free in principle, but government authority will impose whatever censorship may be required "in the public interest."

All citizens will be equal before the law, except where practical considerations justify discrimination. Religious liberty is guaranteed, and religion will be no legal bar to holding office except in the field of public instruction.

Sewers of Vienna and the public square at Linz, where the February civil war broke out, were the central points of political activity in Austria yesterday.

Showed Park Pictures—In Knox Presbyterian Church, corner Stanley and Gladstone Avenue, Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Sunday School, some educational and interesting moving pictures were shown of "Canada's National Parks" by George Warren of the Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau. Mrs. J. S. Patterson, contralto, delighted the audience with two solos. The superintendent of the Sunday school, Reginald Scoble, acted as chairman and led the community singing between pictures. At the close Rev. J. S. Patterson moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Warren and the Publicity Bureau for the enjoyable evening.

MANY JEWS TO GO TO ANGOLA

Associated Press

London, April 30.—The London Daily Herald says it has learned the Portuguese government has approved in principle a long-discussed plan for a large-scale Jewish settlement in Angola, Portuguese possession on the Congo in West Africa.

The paper said a United States Jewish relief organization was prepared to contribute around $10,000,000.

Sponsors of the plan aim ultimately to establish an autonomous Jewish state in Angola under the protection of the League of Nations.

JAMES F. CROWDY CALLED BY DEATH

Assistant Secretary to Governor-General Dies in Fifty-ninth Year

Ottawa, April 30.—James F. Crowdy, assistant secretary to the Governor-General, died yesterday. Born in England in 1876, Mr. Crowdy had been attached to the staff of Rideau Hall for many years.

Mr. Crowdy was one of the most widely known government officials in Ottawa. He entered the civil service in 1906 and went to the Governor-General's office in 1909. He had been assistant secretary since 1922.

He was educated at Harrow and at Trinity College, Cambridge, and after coming to Ottawa he married Mabel Keefer, daughter of the late Charles Keefer. Mrs. Crowdy survives him.

Also surviving him are a daughter, Suzanne, a life of Hon. James Weir, eldest son of Lord Weir, and a son, James, in Alaska. A sister, Dame Rachel Eleanor Crowdy, is a member of the secretariat of the League of Nations at Geneva.

PANCHEN LAMA IS RETURNING

Haichow, China, April 30.—The Panchen Lama, exiled former spiritual leader of Tibet, is returning to that mysterious land, possibly to succeed the late Dalai Lama as official ruler. It was announced yesterday.

After sixty days of continuous prayer, the Panchen Lama will set out on the 3,000-mile overland journey for the mountainous reaches of Central Asia, from where he was expelled in 1924.

His projected return was revealed at the opening session of the National Buddhist convention here, over which the Panchen Lama is presiding. Tibet has been without an official ruler since the Dalai Lama died last September. Serious unrest has been reported in the land. Both India and China are vitally concerned.

REVIVED DOG NOW HAS COLD

California Canine Brought Back From Death Seems to Gain in Alertness

Berkeley, Cal., April 30.—Dr. Robert E. Cornish's death-defying dog, now seventeen days old in its second life, has contracted a head cold.

The animal, named "Thirteen" by Dr. Cornish because it was put to a clinical death and revived April 13, continues to show increasing animation, however. Dr. Cornish said the cold, which he admitted may complicate the dog's condition, was contracted Saturday.

"Thirteen" sleeps curled up, more than ever like a normal dog, Dr. Cornish reported, and seems to be less hazy in responding to sights and sounds when awake. The young scientist doubts if the dog will recover entirely. "We can only hope," he said, "that from knowledge gained from this experiment we will have greater success with the next dog."

U.S. CREATES GREAT FUND

Washington, April 30.—The United States Treasury formally created a $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund to-day, apparently depositing $200,000,000 with the Federal Reserve system for active use and holding the remaining $1,800,000,000 in reserve.

To accomplish the transaction of officially setting up the fund appropriated by Congress for guiding the U.S. dollar's course, the entire $2,000,000,000 was carried as extended on April 27.

AN EASTERN VIEW OF B.C.

THE OTTAWA CITIZEN EXPRESSES

The view that the "most favorable possible response" should be made to British Columbia's case as submitted by Premier Pattullo and other provincial Ministers to the Dominion government. Unless federal aid is forthcoming, in the form of a substantial loan to meet the immediate financial emergency, it reminds the authorities at Ottawa, the province will almost surely be compelled to take independent steps, "even to the extent of straining the federal constitution." Of the province's financial condition The Citizen says:

Premier Pattullo's administration neither accumulated the provincial debts nor initiated the deflation whereby it has been made impossible for the people to carry the load of indebtedness. The burden has been heavily increased by the policy of artificial scarcity. There is no way out but by reiteration measures to increase the ability of British Columbia to pay without incurring more debt. The Dominion's credit should be available for the tiding of British Columbia through this emergency. The national credit has, quite properly, been placed behind some of Canada's private corporation interests. Deflation has severely shaken the commercial structure of the nation. It can not be allowed to destroy the federal structure of the Dominion.

To what extent Mr. Pattullo will obtain assistance from the Dominion government may be known to-day or to-morrow, according to reports from Ottawa. In the absence of an intimation to the contrary, however, it may be assumed that Mr. Bennett and his colleagues are taking the view of the Prime Minister himself, who stated in Montreal recently that he is not disposed to regard the West as an ungrateful mendicant with hat in hand. He reminded some eastern critics of the great contribution made to the general prosperity of the Dominion by labor applied to the natural resources of western Canada. There has been a tendency in some quarters in the East, to blame the people of the West for having assumed more debt than they are able to carry. "It is entirely overlooked by the critics," says The Citizen, "that the burden of debt has been made unbearable by the Dominion's policy of deflation since 1930."

OUR LUMBERMEN'S OPPORTUNITY

CANADA'S EXPORTS OF SAWN AND planed softwoods to Great Britain and Ireland for 1933 amounted to 207,000 standards, or 414,000,000 feet board measurement, and her total export to all countries, 538,000 standards, or 1,076,000,000 feet board measurement. In 1912, our total export to the rest of the world was 750,000 standards, or 1,500,000,000 feet board measurement. Here are the figures for the last five years in standards:

1929	904,000
1930	780,500
1931	501,000
1932	364,000
1933	538,000

It will be noted from the above that the full effect of the United States tariff of four dollars a thousand against Canadian lumber was felt by the industry in this country in 1932. Since then, however, exports totaling 77,000 standards to Great Britain and Ireland have grown to 207,000 standards. In other words, we have thus captured in the United Kingdom market some of the business that the United States tariff still denies us. Incidentally, we are yet 33,000 standards behind the 1912 figure, when our shipments to Britain and Ireland amounted to 240,000 standards.

In the copyright statistics issued by the Timber Department of William Brandt's Sons and Co., of London, England, it is shown, however, that while Canada has made such satisfactory progress in catering to the United Kingdom market, northern European countries—excluding Russia—have very substantially increased their sales in the same market. Sweden's total for 1933 was 445,000 standards compared with 347,000 in 1932. Finland jumped to 557,000 from 385,000; Poland, including Danzig, to 160,000 from 64,000; Latvia to 113,000 from 67,000; Estonia to 34,000 from 13,000. In the case of Russia, due to the embargo which lasted for several weeks last year, a total of 467,000 standards sold to Great Britain and Ireland in 1932 dropped last year to 365,000 standards. This year, it will be recalled, the amount has been fixed at 350,000 standards, the insistence of Canada being responsible for this concession on the part of the government in London.

The figures further show that the total imports from all countries by Great Britain and Ireland last year amounted to 1,997,000 standards, or 3,994,000,000 feet, of which Canada supplied 207,000 standards, or 414,000,000 feet board measurement. In 1932 the total of the United Kingdom's imports amounted to 1,538,000 standards, or 3,076,000,000 feet. Of this increased purchasing, therefore, Canada got 130,000 standards, 207,000 as against 77,000. The other gains are explained as follows:

1932—Sweden	347,000	1933	445,000
—Finland	385,000		557,000
—Estonia	13,000		34,000
—Latvia	67,000		113,000
—Poland	64,000		160,000

How much Russian lumber went through the other northern European countries last year, of course, is not disclosed, but it is fairly safe to assume that the remarkable increases noted above were responsible to some extent for the drop of 102,000 standards in the Soviet sales. What the figures suggest, by the way, is that there is a great opening for still larger Canadian lumber business in the market of the United Kingdom. The $600,000,000 housing scheme which is being launched will call for an enormous amount of timber and, under the preference extended in the Ottawa agreements, this country ought to make up very considerably for the loss of the United States market.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

LAST YEAR THE VICTORIA BLUE

The Ribbon basketball team won the Canadian championship in a series of thrilling contests in this city. Last month this aggregation was beaten by a Vancouver team sponsored by The Vancouver Daily Province, which continued its triumphant progress east of the Rockies by defeating Raymond and Winnipeg. It is now engaged in a titanic conflict with the Montreal Nationals, the eastern champions, and to-night will play the third game of the series to determine the possession of the coveted Canadian championship for the year. The winner must capture three games out of five and The Province team already has won two. Hence it enters the third contest with a long lead and the confidence which so fortunate a condition must beget. We shall hope that the young Vancouver athletes will repeat the performance of the Victoria team of last year and keep the coveted trophy in the West.

For the uninitiated it might be pertinent to explain that the team which is being sponsored by our Vancouver contemporary is not composed of members of the staff of The Province. For example, although F. J. Burd, managing director of that newspaper, is in the East at this moment, he is not playing on The Province team. Nor is Roy Brown, the executive editor, nor William Russell, the business manager, nor Jack Wright, the mechanical superintendent. If they were the team never would have got as far as Montreal; it never would have gone beyond Victoria, where it would have been taken into camp by a similar aggregation from either The Times or The Colonist. Nevertheless, without any reservation, we congratulate both our contemporary on the proud record of the organization sponsored by it, and the young men themselves on the competent way in which they are exemplifying the spirit of the West in the basketball arena.

MAIL TRANSPORTATION

longer is an experiment, and the advocates of a renewal of the subsidy for the carriage of the mail particularly in Canada have a convincing argument. While communications on land are efficient, it must be recognized that after all they are limited in their scope and can not keep abreast of the development of the country except in a very general way. There are, actually millions of square miles of Canadian territory not served by railways or motor vehicular transportation; innumerable communities, especially in Western Canada, which can not receive or transmit mail except infrequently, and progress is undeniably handicapped by that fact.

Winnipeg, for example, is the hub of a great distribution system covering the prairie provinces, the orbit of which extends far into the north and west, and as such should be the centre of a comprehensive and intensive system of mail distribution by air. This, however, is an expensive business and can not be brought about except by financial assistance to the operating companies which, for a considerable part of the year, must operate under serious handicaps. Canada gives generous subsidies for the transportation of mail across the seas. It is even more important that she should facilitate by similar means the distribution of mail within her own boundaries.

In a reference in these columns on Saturday to the English Cup final and the history of the event, the name of Queen's Park Rangers as a finalist in 1884-85 was inadvertently mentioned; the name, of course, should have been Queen's Park. The Rangers is a comparatively young third division club in the southern section of the English League; Queen's Park is in a good position in the first division of the Scottish League.

In his recent budget speech, Hon. Mr. Rhodes declared that "international trade is at a low level, due to continued maintenance of high tariffs, quotas, exchange controls and other defensive measures." Now if Mr. Rhodes will take Mr. Bennett into a corner and persuade him that Canada could do a good trade job for herself by taking a few bricks off her own tariff wall, he would be serving his country well.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

RENTS FOR UNEMPLOYED
L'Action Catholique, Quebec

The situation in Montreal is eminently grave. The landlords say they are tired of keeping tenants who do not pay their rent, and they give notice that in May they will not be fooled as they were a year ago by the payment of one month's rent in advance. They want payment of arrears and current rent. The situation is grave because, if the landlords are as good as their word, there will be thousands of families on the street on May 1. As a man out of work cannot pay his rent, especially if he is not receiving relief, it is hard to figure out what will happen soon. Let us hope some arrangement will be arrived at. It would be futile to talk about abolition of slums if a large part of the population is lodged in refuges.

TURTLE OF 422 POUNDS
The Montreal Gazette

Bermuda—Florence, weighing 422 pounds and claiming to be the second largest green turtle in captivity, showed considerable pleasure on being introduced to several of her species at the fine government aquarium here after having spent four days in lonesome solitude aboard the Canadian National liner Lady Drake. She was provided with free transportation from Antigua, but this did not include meals. She was placed on a starvation diet till her arrival at Hamilton, many passengers aboard the liner being much concerned on this account.

The largest turtle in captivity, presented recently to the London "Zoo," in Regent's Park, was also reared in waters surrounding Antigua, one of the most northerly and capital of the Leeward Islands. She is only twenty-six years heavier than Florence, and said to be about the same age, namely one hundred years, their birth coinciding closely with the death of Nelson, who was so well known in and around the same waters.

Loose Ends

The Heart of the Nation—Ottawa broods and whimpers—Bennett the enigma—Liberal victory is predicted—Gerry McGeer mystifies east.

By H. B. W.

OTTAWA.

A SINGLE light floats like a star high above the spindly Tower of Victory on Parliament Hill to-night to show the nation that its rulers are faithfully at work. The mighty clock smiles its sickly white smile, like the full moon. The tower gargoyles thrust their hideous heads out into the darkness, grinning with contempt at the mortality of the statesmen who live in the stone cells below. Every window in the sprawling Gothic castle which is the seat of government blazes with light. Inside the sombre grey-stone chamber a little Frenchman from down the St. Lawrence is protesting in his own tongue against the deficits of the C.N.R. and few understand him and no one listens or cares.

Here is the very heart of the nation, whose every beat will ultimately affect the lives of thousands of Canadians to-morrow morning. Here is the Capital in the year of the great depression, serene and god-like and unmoved, so far as you can see, by the world upheaval just beneath its towering stone fence. Here is Parliament Hill, a shadowy region as unknown to most Canadians as the inner wilds of Africa, where mythical giants move vaguely through fog and utter astounding words in strange tongues. Here is a city within a city, a world within a world, a slake utterly apart, a vast anthill whose hurrying and scurrying leave the beholder utterly bewildered, a microcosm which is supposed to represent every phase of Canada's life but seems, from the outside, to belong to another planet.

WHAT IS IT?

WHAT IS it all about anyway? What is happening in Ottawa in the year of the great depression, when the world is upside down and humankind is everywhere uprooted? What can you make out of the thundering whispers that fill the air of Parliament Hill in this the most important session of modern times? How can you sift the truth when every single man in both legislative houses seems to have a different viewpoint?

Well, you can't. You can only listen patiently until, after a day of it, your head whirls, with politics, with economics, with finance, with intrigue, until you have lost most of your lifelong convictions, until you are willing to believe anything, until you believe nothing.

BENNETT

OVER IT all broods the enigma of the man Bennett, a god who sits alone in his private Olympus on the second floor of the Chateau, above the storied waters of the Ottawa. Bennett is a very sick man and intends to retire and take a perambulation five minutes after you have got off the train at half past six in the morning. But by noon the best-informed observer in Ottawa tells you definitely that Bennett has never been so well in his life, that he trains like an athlete, is massaged daily, rubbed down, nursed like a Roman emperor. Bennett is the most reactionary statesman in the Empire, the evil genius of the times—this from a highly-placed Liberal. Bennett has been converted, has altered his whole philosophy, has been shaken in all his ancient beliefs by the impact of the depression, is to-day the real leader of advanced thought in the country—this from the man who knows him well. Here are more diverse opinions: Bennett is a ruthless autocrat, who treats all men as dirt beneath his feet—this from a Conservative. Bennett is the most tender-hearted being imaginable, full of consideration for his friends, this from a Liberal.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"There's nothing in this book of etiquette I don't already know."

always doing little personal favors behind his mask of austerity. Bennett is abysmally ignorant of modern economics. . . . Bennett is the best-read scholar in the country. Bennett thinks only in the terms of high finance. . . . Bennett knows more about Socialism than any Canadian Socialist. Bennett is a rich man, utterly insulated from the misery of the poor who shuffle along the street below his castle. . . . Bennett lives in a private hell of suffering because his people suffer, and wishes with all his heart that he were a poor man himself, away from Olympus, down on the street.

STRANGE BEING

NO ONE seems to understand Bennett. No two agree about him. No one knows what he intends to do. Bennett will get mad one of these days and go to the country in a huff, a wily old parliamentarian assures you. There will be no election for a year at least, says the shrewdest correspondent on Parliament Hill. Mind you, there would have been but for South Oxford. Everything was ready for an appeal. . . . a new policy, a sharp movement to the economic left, a works programme, everything to intrigue and barter years and had to start building our new economics all over again after that.

Yes, says the C.C.F. man of the left wing, the Liberal Party can't help winning. . . . a solid Quebec, a sweep in the Maritimes, more seats in rural Ontario, a large group from the prairies, and B.C., of course, doesn't count with its handful of seats. Yes, he says, the Liberal Party will win, but says the left-winger, Mackenzie King, with his Gladstonian Liberalism, his determination to let economics and business take their course, unrestricted, has made the Liberal Party the party of the right of reaction. He will get in, but we shall face four barren years and have to start building our new economics all over again after that.

Nonsense, says the young Liberal. The new economics have broken down everywhere in the world. We have been down to Washington and discovered that the New Deal is collapsing, that Roosevelt has proved a glorious but complete failure. We will not make the same mistake here. We will not defy the immutable laws of supply and demand. We will build the country according to its natural place in the scheme of things. . . . no exotic industries protected by an unnatural tariff, no attempt to boost prices by controlled marketing, none of this insane buying up of farmers' wheat, no more of the wild Socialism in the name of Conservatism.

OUT WEST

OH, YOU are from the west, say the great eastern editor. What's happening in the west, anyway? What is this banking policy of Gerry McGeer's? Is the fellow mad or just playing politics or what? Does he want the Douglas credit scheme? We had Major Douglas here, you know, testifying before the banking committee for a $500 fee talking through his nose with a cultured twang, leaving everybody ten times more confused than before, setting back the cause of credit and financial reform ten years. Is McGeer's idea the same? No? Well, what is it? But there's no way trying to elaborate it; we're too busy the budget debate.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALICE MICHAELIS

THE GATE

There are wide fields that lie beyond their narrow boundaries, And past the hills and mountains tall, And farther, plains and seas. O, gladly, gladly do I pass through their changeful ways To learn the loveliness life holds. And all its joy, its praise; Its fields of peace, its peaks of hope. Its seas of bliss that wait; But never could I enter there. Life's meanings I could never gain. Its truths I could not prove. Until the gate swung wide for me. The gate? The gate is love!

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

April 30, 1909
(From The Times Files)
The bridge on the Gorge Road, between Manchester Street and Washington Avenue, is to be done away with and the road filled in where it crosses the ravine. This decision was brought about by the strenuous opposition of Alderman Humber at the streets committee meeting last night to any half measures.

The plans for the railway extension of the E. and N. Railway between French Creek and Alberni have been approved by the railway commissioners, and arrangements will be made to commence work in the very near future, according to a statement made by Mr. Marpole, general executive assistant of the C.P.R. and vice-president of the E. and N. Railway, who is in the city to-day.

The first baseball game of the season will be played to-morrow afternoon at the Oak Bay park between the nines of the J.B.A.A. and the Oak Bay Athletic Club.

The Victoria Amateur Baseball League met last evening at the J.B.A.A. with Alex. Lockley in the chair. Entries were received in the three grades as follows: Senior Esquimalt Athletic Association, J.B.A.A., Y.M.C.A. North Ward, Oak Bay and Rendell.

Just the right man, is the candid verdict of every citizen who has met Fire Chief Thomas Davis since he arrived in Victoria on last evening's steamer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maynard were in Vancouver yesterday.

The importation of birds and animals into British Columbia seems to be epidemic. Some of the germs of the disease have gone abroad and at last His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor James Dunsmyth, has caught it. Black game is to be the Governor's hobby. He has already ordered a number of birds from Europe and these will be shipped early in the autumn.

BANANA MONOPOLY

Port of Spain, Trinidad, April 30 (Canadian Press cable).—Officers of Trinidad's Banana Control Board signed a contract yesterday giving the Canadian Banana Company exclusive right to buy all Gros Michel bananas grown for export, in the next five years.

In return for the virtual monopoly, the company agreed to pay fixed rates for the fruit, regardless of fluctuations in the market during the period of the contract. Another clause in the contract provided that the bananas were to be shipped to Canada by way of the Canadian National Steamships.

Exports will be under direct supervision of the board, which contracted to provide a steady supply and regulate quality. The board is an offshoot of the Fruit Growers' Association. Its action in signing the agreement had administrative sanction.

IMPERIAL OIL
Sarnia, Ont., April 28 (Canadian Press).—G. Harrison Smith was re-elected president at the Imperial Oil Limited stockholders' meeting here yesterday. Other directors re-elected are: C. A. Eames, R. V. Lesuer, John McNeil and L. C. McCloskey; vice-president, F. E. Holbrook; secretary-treasurer, A. E. Halverson.

COOL WAVE ON PRAIRIES

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, April 30.—Chill winds, frost and overcast skies to-day banished thoughts of spring across the prairies. Dust storms which dimmed the sun Sunday had abated, but clouds prevailed. Colder weather, with northerly and easterly winds, and scattered showers were forecast.

FOUNDING OF ORDER MARKED

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs
Hold Special Parade and Service at St. John's

Commemorating the 115th anniversary of the establishment of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows on this continent, members of the Victoria branch, along with local Rebekahs, marched in full lodge regalia, headed by the pipe band of the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish, to St. John's Church yesterday.

About 300 of the lodgemen and members of the sister organization participated in the parade, which started from the F.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street, and proceeded to the church. Then—and most important—there's the big sum of three billions that can be raised at any time by using a generally forgotten section of the Thomas amendment. The Federal Reserve banks simply would accept new treasury obligations and give the government credit for the amount on their books.

That device wouldn't mean inflation except as it would increase the national debt. It isn't likely to be used at any time before next fall.

THREE-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN

Toronto, April 30.—Convicted of a charge of beating an aged storekeeper in an attempted holdup, Jack Mayson, twenty-nine, of Penikese, B.C., today was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

It was alleged Mayson visited the clothing store of Meyer Axley several weeks ago. Later he returned and ordered the proprietor to "stick them up." It was stated, and in the course of the ensuing struggle he beat the aged man about the head and face. He was captured by three salesmen and held for police.

The Kennel Club of Shawanigan Lake held another of its successful dances at the Forest Inn, on Friday, with a record attendance. The lounge was charmingly decorated with masses of wisteria and dogwood, while the dining rooms were fragrant with Narcissus. Dancing continued until 2.30 a.m. to the music of Len Acres' orchestra. A pedigreed wire-haired terrier presented by Mrs. B. C. Walker of Duncan was won by Miss Jean Fortune. Among the dancers were noticed: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rhodes, Captain and Mrs. R. L. HAS BILLIONS TO PLAY WITH Washington, April 30.—After Congress goes away and there is no one here to appropriate any more money, "Papa" Roosevelt still will have a big ace in the hole.

Knowing winks and confident grins from those who know what's in the back of F. D.'s mind greet questions as to what will happen after all GWA's 4,000,000 workers are turned loose.

Certain plans are afoot for absorbing those workers. What makes the insiders so confident is that the president has about $4,000,000,000 to draw upon—quite outside the budget estimates.

He hasn't said anything indicating an intention to use it and he probably still thinks it may not be necessary.

But it's a swell nest-egg and his advisers know it will be available if the Roosevelt programme requires it. First, there's about a billion in the treasury derived from profit on the gold reserve resulting from dollar devaluation. That's in addition to the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund—drawn upon—the profit—which can be used virtually as the White House desires.

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, taking as his subject "He Went Out Doing Good," preached a special sermon outlining the beneficent work of the order and drawing analogies between the ideals of the Odd Fellows and the Christian principles.

Alex Sedgley and Irvin Ward, members of the lodge, read the lessons. During the second week in June, the Grand Lodge of British Columbia will hold its annual sessions in Victoria, when delegates and visitors from all over the province will attend. Special exercises will be held to celebrate the seventieth birthday of Victoria Lodge, No. 1, the first lodge in British Columbia, instituted on March 10, 1864, by the Grand Lodge of California. Ten years later the grand lodge was formed, and British Columbia was raised to the standing of a jurisdiction. From this beginning the order has grown in British Columbia, to an aggregate membership of 14,000, combining fraternity with a practical system of assistance to its members in time of sickness or distress.

GIRL GUIDES AT CATHEDRAL

Nearly 500 Girls at Church Parade Yesterday; Dean Gives Sermon

Seattle Girl Scouts Gave Clever Puppet Show Saturday

Approximately 300 Rangers and Guides and 150 Brownies, representing fourteen companies and seven packs of Victoria district, attended a special Girl Guides church parade at St. James' Cathedral yesterday afternoon. A part of the parade was in the hands of the two Girl Scouts from Seattle, with their director, Miss Townsend, and field captain, Miss Edwards, joined in the service.

The guide companies and Brownie packs, with their colors, assembled near the Y.W.C.A. building, and then marched in a procession to the cathedral where, in an impressive ceremony, the color parties deposited their standards which were received by the Dean and returned to the cathedral at the conclusion of the service.

Dean Qualton officiated and gave a helpful talk, admonishing the girls to live according to the Guide laws. The cathedral was filled with the pews to the right of the centre aisle were occupied by Brownies. Guides were seated on the left. Officials present were: Miss Norman Macdonald, provincial commissioner; Mrs. I. A. Genge and Mrs. H. M. Archibald, district commissioners. The arrangements were in the hands of Miss Hilda Leighton, Mrs. Kyle Symons, Mrs. G. Watts, Mrs. P. E. Corby and other members of the local association and many interested members of the general public were present.

PUPPET SHOW SUCCESS

A special feature of the successful and well-attended entertainment presented on Saturday evening in the Bridge Memorial Hall, under the auspices of the local association of Girl Guides, was the puppet show put on by visiting Girl Scouts of Seattle.

The puppets, beautifully fashioned and costumed to represent the characters portrayed, and the well appointed miniature theatre itself, were all manufactured by the scouts, whose ability was further demonstrated in the clever manipulation of the small figures as they played their parts and in the naturalness of the delivery of the lines. The story of "Winnie the Pooh" was followed by the delightful rendered tale of "Winnie the Pooh."

The Gonzales Brownie Pack gave a repeat performance of "The Brownie and the Pigmy Owl," with which they secured second place at the recent dramatic festival. The play was written especially for the pack, whose mascot is a pigmy owl, by Miss Eugenie M. Perry and was awarded the silver cup for the best play for juniors at the festival.

The Brownies acted with a child-like charm which fully accounted for the high praise previously accorded them. The play was a success, a dainty Chinese dance, in costume, by Holly Greer of the Equilmalt Brownie Pack, was enthusiastically enjoyed.

The entertainment concluded with a series of moving pictures with accompanying explanations given by Mrs. W. Nichol and taken by her while on a recent trip round the world. The films depicting Guide activities in Egypt, Hongkong and other distant lands were particularly appreciated.

Mrs. Kyle Symons was chairman and announced the items of the programme. Miss G. Finch Page played the incidental music.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

All club girls who have taken part in the recreational hour during the winter are invited to attend a special meeting this evening at 7 o'clock, when a rehearsal will be held for the closing demonstrations of the physical department. It is important that everyone should be out. Miss Hinton will be in charge of the closing, which will take place on Friday, May 11.

On Friday night a joint meeting was held by the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. boards of directors, when Dr. E. M. Best was the guest speaker. Dr. Best reviewed the changes affecting the lives of young people which have taken place in the past years, and then led a discussion on what the two associations are doing to meet these changes. A social hour followed when refreshments were served by the members of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A.

The Versatiles are busy preparing for their silver tea to be held Friday afternoon, May 11, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The next event of importance to the Pirates Club is their "Flannel Dance," to be held on Thursday night, May 3, at 8:30 o'clock.

HOUSEHOLD TRAINING

Plans are being made by the Travelers' Aid Immigration and Social Service committee for a second course for household helpers. The course will be held early in September. The results of the last course have proved very satisfactory. Many of those who enjoyed the course are now placed in positions and are finding their instruction very useful.

The annual membership tea will be held Wednesday afternoon, May 3, at 6 o'clock. The membership committee, convened by Miss Norman Macdonald, cordially invite all members and friends of the association to make a special effort to attend this tea. This is the one time during the year when members come together socially to become acquainted. There will be a musical programme.

Junior Pupils Recital.—At the studio of Miss Marie George, 1022 Kenzie Street, a recital of her junior pupils was held on Saturday evening before a large audience of parents and friends of the young performers. Miss George was assisted by her mother, Mrs. George, in receiving their guests. The Belmont Cabaret was comfortably filled on Saturday evening when the management presented their All-British Cabaret dance, Miriam Schwabe, gave two very clever numbers, a fast tap dance to "Viva la France," and a lovely waltz to "Let's Make Hay While the Sun Shines." Miss Anne Rockingham, in a delightful Merry Widow gown of black georgette, offered a graceful solo waltz to the dreamy strains of an ever-popular musical comedy hit, which came in for well-deserved applause. A distinct contrast to the usual floor act was the one played by Arthur Groves. Made up as a love sick swain of the gay 'nineties, he cleverly presented with mock pathos the tragic story of "The New on the Flying Trapeze," the dancers joining in the many "Oh's" which the number called for, as well as assisting him in singing the choruses. Gay table decorations of iris, tulips and narcissi and the excellent playing of Albert Price and the Belmont Orchestra aided in the complete success of the evening. Many reservations were made, including Mr. Dick Sturberg, with six, Mr. Albert Mayo with two, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hickey with six.

DAARSMAN IS BRIDEGROOM

Marriage Saturday of Reginald Askey and Miss
Elsie Dunn

Quiet Ceremony at Garrison
Church Followed By Big Reception

A popular carsman and captain of the rowing club of the James Bay Athletic Association was the bridegroom at a quiet wedding held on Saturday evening at St. Paul's Naval and Military Garrison Church, Esquimalt, when Rev. Alan Gardiner united in marriage Elsie, third daughter of Mr. George Dunn and the late Mrs. Dunn of Victoria, to Mr. Reginald Askey, only son of Mrs. R. A. Askey and the late Mr. C. P. Askey of this city. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family, the ceremony was attended by relatives and intimate friends only.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. George Dunn, the bride made a radiant picture in her French model gown of white satin, made on moulded lines to the feet, the bodice having a yoke of silk lace, and buttoned at the back, while the lace was repeated in the sleeves. Her veil of snowy tulle and hand-made lace was caught beneath a circlet of orange blossoms and formed a small train. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, sweet peas and Ophelia roses.

Miss Evelyn Dunn, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, attractively gowned in a French model of white organdie, patterned all over in a small leaf design of marine blue, with marine blue and white ruffles at the high neckline, and the puff sleeves. With it she wore a picture hat of marine blue straw, white mits and white shoes, and carried a bouquet of pink snapdragons and carnations. Mr. Arthur H. Cox was groomsmen.

RECEPTION HELD

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Cox, South Turner Street, the reception rooms being beautifully decorated with a profusion of white lilac, narcissi, blue iris and scillas, pink snapdragons, carnations and tulips.

Mrs. Cox received the guests wearing a smart gown of burnt orange transparent velvet, with jacquette banded at the elbows with white fur, and a French close-fitting hat of white, and a corsage bouquet of carnations and sweet peas. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. R. A. Askey, mother of the bridegroom, smartly gowned in lighter brown satin, with Caroline Reboux hat to tour, and wearing a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and mauve sweet peas, and a French close-fitting hat of white, and a corsage bouquet of carnations and sweet peas. The young couple received the congratulations of their friends while standing beneath an exquisite arch of white lilac, blue iris and scillas, pink tulips and carnations, flanked on either side by pedestals bearing tall vases of carnations, while from the arch was suspended a wedding bell of white with miniature silver slippers.

Supper was served from a table covered with a handsome hand-embroidered cloth and centred with a three piece silver centrepiece of mixed flowers with tall blue tapers in silver holders. The two tier wedding cake occupied separate bride's table adorned with silver vases of pink and mauve sweet peas.

The many handsome gifts included a Chesterfield table and cut glass bowl from the staff of the credit department of Spencer's, where the bride was a popular employee, and a marble clock from the Provincial Government printing bureau where the groom is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Askey left for a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle the bride traveling in a smart ensemble of blue dress, trimmed with brilliant buckles with red centres being worn beneath a smart coat of marine blue trimmed with grey fur, and a small blue hat and grey accessories. They will make their home at 1329 Carnarvon Street on their return.

Corbett-Castley

At the home of the bridegroom's parents, on Saturday evening, the marriage was quietly solemnized by Rev. Dr. J. K. Unsworth conducted the ceremony, during which the bride and groom stood beneath a lovely floral bell, which was covered with yellow laburnum and white narcissi, between baskets filled with yellow tulips, white iris and greenery. Bows of lilac and pink tulips were also used in decoration of the house.

Only near relatives were present at the service, and they were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Corbett, the latter wearing a smart frock of French blue lace and a matching hat and a corsage bouquet of pink roses, assisted by Mrs. Castley, in an ensemble of pink hat crepe, apron and a corsage bouquet of white carnations.

The bride made a charming picture in a pretty ruffled frock of Nile green net and a large white hat, and she carried a bouquet of yellow tea roses and lily of the valley, her bridesmaid being her sister, Miss Ina Castley, in a frock of yellow tulle with touches of green, and a large yellow hat trimmed with green. She held a sheaf of burnt orange snapdragons. Mr. Edward Corbett supported his brother. Supper was served from a table centred with a bowl filled with pink sweet peas and tall pink tapers, the handsome white ice cake being set at one end. Mr. and Mrs. Corbett left at midnight by the St. Dorothy Alexander for Los Angeles, and after their honeymoon, they will return to Victoria to make their home. The bride left in a smart blue dress and a grey coat and hat and matching accessories.

The beautiful flowers at the wedding were the gift of the employees of Butchart's gardens, the bride having been formerly a member of the office staff of the B.C. Cement Company Ltd.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Esabel Morris, Northfield, and Mr. Dalton A. Bennett, second son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bennett, Kennedy Street, Nanaimo.

"Cooler" Myth Exploded

"Which Is Your Refrigerator?"

SCIENCE has determined that 50 degrees is the danger line, above which the growth of bacteria is quickened and food spoils rapidly. Nature does not provide the necessary temperatures even in winter, and it is unsatisfactory and unsanitary to entrust your family's health to these methods, such as the cellar-window box—or back porch. The butter in your "cooler" may look firm, and the milk may taste fresh, but that doesn't alter the fact that harmful bacteria is present. The Westinghouse Electric Refrigerator, by maintaining a temperature always below 50 degrees, keeps food perfectly under all temperature conditions.

And more, think of the spoiled food you have thrown away... the lettuce that wilted and the meat that turned mouldy. All of this waste could have been prevented with an Electric Refrigerator, and the saving in food alone would go a long way toward helping you pay for one.

25 Convenience Features

The handy STOR-DOR that keeps small or frequently used articles always ready to hand, is just one of the many advanced Westinghouse features which include

ELECTRIC LIGHT
ROLLING SHELVES
FAST-FREEZING SHELF
HIGH-SPEED FROSTER
SEVEN-POINT TEMPERATURE CONTROL and dozens of others.

Westinghouse prices are now as low as they will be; monthly terms are as low as $7.50. Latest models are now on display at our store.

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1934

Adverse planetary influences dominate today, according to astrology. Under this away from may be much uncertainty regarding future business plans and decided restlessness among workers.

This month Venus is in a place most promising for many dwellers on the planet Earth. The conformity is read as indicating prosperity and a generally optimistic spirit.

Political conferences may be many and they are likely to smooth out many misunderstandings and to preclude unity of action in national recovery programmes.

Neptune today is in an aspect believed to be disquieting to minds that are easily affected by fear, but the indications are favorable for business and the learned professions.

The summer is to be fairly prosperous, it is foretold, although faintly, and may be more fairly settled under another year.

It is not a lucky rule of the stars for setting financial matters. The month is to bring changing points of view beneficial to debtors, it is foretold.

Novel fashions, in particular, may be expected in the summer, when dress is to become an extremely interesting subject. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of change that may be attended with groundless anxieties.

Children born on this day probably will be brilliant and resourceful. Subjects of this sign of Taurus usually have force and power.

George Inness, noted landscape painter, was born on this day, 1825. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Douglas Hiden, sculptor, 1886; Alexander W. Williamson, English chemist, 1824; and Junius Brutus Booth, English tragedian and father of Edwin Booth, 1796.

ROYAL OAK

Nine tables were in play at the card party of the Royal Oak Women's Institute on Thursday evening. The ten-bid prizes were won by Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Hutchinson. Other prizes were: First, Mrs. Morrison and Mr. Ponsford; second, Miss Hewitt and Mrs. Milne (substitute), and third, Mrs. Brown and Mr. Osgood. Rostesses were Miss Ley, Mrs. and Miss Phillips and Mrs. Wilkinson.

An old-time dance will be held in the Institute Hall on Friday, May 4, under the auspices of the Institute.

On May 2 a flower and bulb show will be held in the Institute Hall from 2.30 to 6 o'clock, open to all.

Exhibit entries may be telephoned to Miss Oldfield at Colquhoun 25P.

Find Money
Question
May Kill It

Love Is the Only Thing That Can't Be Bought, Yet How Often It Dies for the Lack of a Little Money—and How Often the Tightwad Husband and the Spendthrift Wife Deliberately Kill the Love That Could Last a Lifetime!

THE ONE thing in the world that is untainted by commercialism is love. There are no price tags on hearts. Money will not buy affection; it is always a gift and one that is bestowed perhaps often on the pauper than on the millionaire.

In this country there are not many mercenary marriages. That Canadian men are not fortune-hunters is amply proved by the fact that there are more old maids among wealthy girls than there are among poor ones. Nor are there many Mamma De Strooses and still fewer Millies who are willing to exchange youth and romance for an old husband's pocketbook.

Yet, in spite of practically all marriages being arranged on a sentimental instead of financial basis, it may be truthfully said that money is the root of all evil in marriage. It sometimes seems as if the Almighty Deities reward itself after marriage for having been so completely ignored before marriage and never cease its nefarious work until it turns husbands and wives from turtle doves into snarling cats and dogs.

It is undeniable that money is the great dispeller of illusions in marriage, and that it is when a couple begin to discover that they have to pay cash for love's young dream that they commence wondering if it is worth the price. This is so often the case that we are led to wonder if the real reason that little birds in their nests agree is not because they do not have to pay high rents for their apartments nor settle monthly clothes and food bills.

Of course, money would be a more peaceful-aiding place for both parties if wives grew their own fine feathers instead of purchasing them and rustled the family worms instead of getting from the grocery.

All of us know so many pitiful cases of marriages that have gone on the rocks simply because they were not adequately financed. A fine boy and girl were so much enamored of each other they persuaded themselves that love was enough, and that they could subsist on a bread and cheese and kisses diet. So they married, but when they had to adopt a lower scale of living; when bread and cheese paled upon their palates and kisses lost their flavor; when they grew shabby and had to sacrifice every taste and habit of a lifetime, Cupid, as the old saying goes, flew out the window. Nerves grew taut, tempers snapped, they began quarreling and reproaching each other, and the marriage that a little money would have made a success was a failure.

Leaving aside these tragic instances of how disrupting the lack of money can be to a marriage, we have daily proof that even among well-to-do husbands and wives the money question does more to kill love and promote divorce than the vice do, and leads to more bitter and acrimonious disputes.

The reason for this is because it is the one subject on which both the party of the first part and the party of the second part are deceived when they sign the marriage contract.

The man artlessly believes, in spite of all evidence to the contrary, that two can live as cheaply as one. Or for very little more. Nothing worth considering in making out a budget. And when he is overwhelmed by bills for everything under the sun he gets sore with his wife and sore on matrimony. He expected to be his wife's lover, not a slave toiling for her. He never dreamed that he would have to give up all of his own personal indulgences to pay for finger waves and real lace caps for the baby.

Of course, he wants to provide for his family, but he would like a few nickels of the money he earns for himself. And he would like to eat a few breakfasts without having his digestion upset by a reminder that a coal bill is due and a request to leave some money for the laundress and for Johnny's new shoes and Sally's coat.

It is when wife ceases to be a lady love and becomes a daughter of the horse leech always asking for more that husband figures that there isn't much percentage in marriage after all.

And the woman's mistake is in taking it literally, and actually believing it, when her husband swears at the altar to endow her with all his worldly goods.

She thought they would be one, financially as well as sentimentally, and it is a shock when she discovers that he is the one who holds the pocketbook and that she can't get a finger in it and that she has no more financial independence than any pauper who rattles a tin cup on a street corner.

Perhaps she has been, as most girls are nowadays, in business and had her own pay envelope, but she finds in marriage that she has to work for her board and clothes, with never a penny that she can spend as she pleases.

And it is when the generous lover turns into a tightwad and a woman has to go to her husband for every nickel and tell what she did with the last, that the temperature of her affections drops to zero and she begins looking up the time-table for Reno.

Isn't it strange that money playing such an important part in making or marring a marriage, men and women do not settle the financial problem before marriage instead of waiting to fight over it after marriage?

Your Baby and Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

PREPARE BOTTLES WITH CARE

The measuring and mixing of bottle formula should be an exact ceremony. Food is an important consideration in the life of the infant and the kind of formula and its preparation make up a large portion of what one considers good baby care.

BOIL MILK

Unless advised differently by an attending physician, milk for the infant's formula should be boiled. This may be a slow boiling in a double boiler for twenty minutes, counting from the time the water in the outer kettle begins to boil; or a brisk boiling in an open pan for three minutes, counting from the time boiling begins. And you know how easily milk scorch!

The milk must be stirred constantly when it is boiled over an open flame.

After boiling, the milk is measured in a sterilized glass measuring beaker and poured into a clean porcelain or glass pitcher. The intricacies of figuring the formula are discussed at length in my leaflet called, "Sweet Milk Formulas," which is available to all readers who will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to this department with each request.

ADD WATER AND SUGAR

The water for the formula should be boiled and added to the sugar. When the sugar has dissolved in the water, add to the milk and pour into the separate bottles, one for every feeding, and one extra in case of accident. The bottles are then stoppered with rubber tops supplied for this purpose and put on ice. If the milk is still warm, it is advisable to stand the bottles in a kettle of cold water and let water from the faucet run over them until the bottles are cold. Then they should be placed on ice and kept there until time for baby's feeding.

A small, deep pan may be used to heat the bottle. Fill the pan with cold water, place the bottle in it, and put over the fire. When the water comes to a boil, the milk will be just warm enough.

Test it by dropping a few drops on the inside of the arm, where the flesh is sensitive. Too hot a feeding will make the baby perspire uncomfortably. Cold milk is unappealing. We should try to warm the milk to about the same temperature at which the feeding would be baby fed naturally. Shake the bottle, adjust a sterilized nipple, and serve to a greedily hungry baby.

HONOR RETIRED FIRE OFFICERS

Presentation Made at Cumberland to T. E. Banks and A. McKinnon

(Special to The Times)

Cumberland, April 30.—Members of the Cumberland Volunteer Fire Department honored two retired members, T. E. Banks, ex-chief, and A. McKinnon, ex-secretary, at a banquet held at the Waverley Hotel last Wednesday evening by presentations of honorary memberships and badges.

In the absence of Chief C. J. Parrish, Assistant Chief J. Cannon acted as chairman. The presentation to Messrs. Banks and McKinnon was made by Capt. D. Bannerman, who congratulated them on their long and honorable association with the department.

Vernon W. Stewart, former chief of the Victoria Fire Department, gave an interesting address on his early associations with fire brigades from the days of the bucket brigade up to today with its highly motorized departments. He spoke also of the service given to the community by volunteer departments and urged the members to maintain a high standard in their organization.

Sister Mary's KITCHEN

REMEMBER YOU CAN ALSO EAT PARSLEY!

BY MARY E. DAGUE

The chemists are finding out things about parsley—such as that it has a higher percentage of iron than spinach, for instance, which was a great surprise to most of us.

The dietitians, however, stand pat on their declaration that this flavoured green can never be eaten in large quantities as spinach. Though, for that matter, you would not need as much of it to get your daily iron quota.

There are ways to use parsley palatably that most of us never think about, for until now we've used it chiefly to make our meats and vegetables look pretty, and sometimes in parsley butter for fish and potatoes.

PARSLEY BUTTER AND SAUCE

Parsley butter, by the way, has other points—as a sandwich spread, for example.

Wash parsley and pat dry between towels. Mince finely or put through the fine knife of the food chopper. Combine one-half cup minced parsley with four tablespoons creamed butter. Add a few grains of salt and a little lemon juice if extra piquancy is needed. Spread on thin slices of whole wheat bread, toast lightly and garnish each sandwich with a tiny sprig of crisp parsley.

A plain white sauce made with milk or the pungent case may be becomes parsley sauce when two or more tablespoons of minced parsley are added just before serving. If the parsley is allowed to stand long or boil in the sauce, it loses its bright green color.

There is a straight parsley that is used for the branches. The branches should be stripped from the main stalk because this is tough and requires longer cooking. Wash thoroughly and chop the leaves. Add water to the kettle in which it is cooked. Cook uncovered and serve well seasoned with butter and lemon juice.

This variety of parsley is less pungent than the tightly curled varieties and makes an inviting dish.

HISTORIC GREECE

When I'm mincing and washing I like to remember that the cooks of ancient Greece recognized and made use of the pungent parsley. The Carthaginians found it in Sardinia and introduced the herb to the inhabitants of Marseilles. The Romans used it as a symbol of mourning, and even to-day there are various quaint superstitions connected with parsley in England and Scotland.

Even little children may have it finely minced with their baked potato or sprinkled over their soup. When it is used simply as a garnish, be sure it is well washed and crisped and encourage children to form the habit of eating it.

Omelets and scrambled eggs, deviled eggs, shirred eggs and baked eggs are made more interesting if generously seasoned with minced parsley.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Sliced bananas and oranges, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, toasted rolls, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Shrimp salad, parsley sandwiches, old-fashioned rice pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner: Roast pork chops with apples and pineapple, potato marbles in parsley butter, celery and cabbage salad, butterscotch pie, milk, coffee.

CHOIR CONCERT MUCH ENJOYED

Under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour a choir concert was given recently at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church choir, under the direction of James Longmaid, rendered a sacred cantata, "The Story of Music."

The music was extremely well rendered by a choir of thirty voices, with Mr. Longmaid at the piano and C. W. Dalimore, organist for St. Paul's, at the organ.

After the cantata, the choir adjourned to the auditorium where a delightful tea was served under the fireplace, under the supervision of Miss Margaret Scott, assisted by Miss Helen Tomlinson.

At the close, Fred R. Arnot, president, on behalf of the Christian Endeavour, thanked the choir for its fine entertainment.

Daughters of St. George—Daughters of St. George, Victoria Lodge No. 83, will hold their meeting on Wednesday evening, May 2, at 8 o'clock at the S.O.E. Hall, Sister A. Gurney presiding. Members are requested to attend as a large class of candidates is to be initiated into the order and many important items are to be discussed. The cushion was won by Sister Kesteven.

ANTI-MOSLEY MOVE PLANNED

On May 24 in London 250,000 Laborites Expected to Organize Against Fascism

Canadian Press
April 30.—The London Trades Council has launched a move to combat Fascism in the United Kingdom. It has issued a call for a meeting May 24 of representatives of 250,000 trade unionists who will seek means to counteract what they see as danger in such movements as those led by Sir Oswald Mosley.

The secretary of the council at the week-end issued a memorandum to prospective delegates to the London meeting in which he said among other things: "The only possible alternative to Fascism can emerge through complete reorganization of society. A blow for reorganization must be struck by wage and salary earners through the union movement. They must demand a concrete plan for immediate action."

EARLY SEASON AID TO B.C.

The early growing season in British Columbia, due to favorable weather conditions, will give producers of perishable commodities a marked advantage this year on the prairie and eastern markets, according to J. A. Grant, provincial markets commissioner.

In the east B.C. goods will have a two weeks' lead on competitors and on the prairie about three weeks, it is estimated.

SWIMMING CLASSES WILL BE CONTINUED

Owing to a flood of requests from parents, the Y.M.C.A. swimming classes which were closed for the season last Wednesday will be continued for another two months, it was announced this morning by Archie McKinnon, physical director of the Y.

The classes still have a few vacancies, and those interested in coaching for the next two months are asked to communicate with Mr. McKinnon at the Y.M.C.A., phone Empire 7194.

The Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will present a concert and play in the Sunday school room on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Those taking part in the play will be Robert Milliken, Gertrude Hodge, Allan Anderson, Thora Ridout, Geo. A. Warren and Anne Moyes. TUGWELL VIEW CAUSES STIR

Roosevelt Aide Reported to Have Praised "Wine, Women and Song"

Associated Press
Portland, Ore., April 30.—The congregation of Rose City Park Methodist Episcopal Church wants to know if two quotations attributed to Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell are authentic. If they are, the parishioners expressed better in a vote yesterday, the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for the United States should resign. One statement, attributed to Dr. Tugwell by a church paper, was: "One of the oldest and quietest roads to contentment lies through the conventional trinity of wine, women and song."

A second statement, that "American women should follow the example of Mrs. Roosevelt and serve wine in their homes," aroused such anger that the parishioners voted for a motion referring to Dr. Tugwell as "unworthy to represent the people and untrue to the traditions and standards of the American people."

NEW PLAN FOR WHEAT PRICES

International Committee Considers Fixing of Figures at Principal Ports

Canadian Press from Havana, London, April 30.—A new move in the effort, being made by different governments to improve the wheat situation will be made when the world advisory wheat committee assembles here May 7.

The London agreement of August, 1933, aimed at improvement by finding an equilibrium between production and consumption. The forthcoming meeting will work directly toward increasing the price of wheat. Minimum price fixing for different grades of wheat in the principal shipping ports of the world may appear as a new arbitrary intervention.

In order to simplify their task, the world wheat advisory committee is preparing two tables which will be the basis for a system of control of prices. The first table will contain the prices of the different kinds of wheat quoted by Canada and the other various export points of each country.

PERMANENT COMMITTEE
A permanent committee of four experts will be able to follow the variations in prices through use of these tables and advise the committee as to the measures necessary to maintain minimum prices at the points of shipping. Governments must agree the prices in the interior will be equal to the minimum export prices. If it could be rigorously controlled by government agencies this plan for improving prices would seem simple enough, but variations in the exchange, interest rates, commission rates and other factors make price fixing a real mathematical problem.

MINE BLAST TAKES LIVES

Five Known Dead in Explosion at Leigh, England; Three Brothers Killed

Associated Press
Leigh, Eng., April 30.—Five miners were known to have been killed and seven heavier loss of life was feared in an explosion which wrecked a mine while a full shift was working to-day.

The same colliery was the scene of an accident in 1932 in which nineteen men were killed by a falling cage.

Three hundred men had gone down to work just before the explosion happened. A great many escaped by other shafts, but pending a complete check it was not known how many were missing.

The five bodies recovered shortly afterwards were identified as those of William, Joseph and George Belshaw.

The suit followed an automobile accident on the Pacific Highway October 9, 1933, near Burlington, Wash. An automobile driven by Dr. McEwen, with his wife and boy as passengers, collided with a car owned by Father Forget.

The judgment ruled that the defendant, if he had acted with ordinary care and skill, could and should have stopped his car in time to avoid a collision. There was no negligence on the part of Dr. McEwen, according to the judgment.

Mrs. McEwen, one of the three injured in the crash, is still a patient in hospital.

PRIEST TO PAY HEAVY DAMAGES

Canadian Press
New Westminster, April 30.—Damages totalling $13,267 have been awarded in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice A. I. Fisher to Dr. H. Bruce McEwen, Mrs. McEwen and their young son, Paul, of New Westminster, against Rev. Father Forget of Vancouver.

MEDICAL HEROES ARE DRAMATIZED

Play on Broadway Presents Saga of Battle Against Yellow Fever

New York, April 30.—To the considerable glory of little-dramatized science, and to the credit of the modern theatre, is "Yellow Jack," a stage saga of the long battle against yellow fever.

Sidney Howard has written it with the collaboration of Paul De Kruif, author of "Microbe Hunters." If it fails to win the Pulitzer Prize it will not be for lack of richness, majesty, sincerity or significance.

If there is any fault it must lie in the loose sequences made necessary by sticking to facts of the thrilling tale, and in the staging of a modern sort of monumental set, without a scrap of scenery. For the story is the kind that demands realism in every respect.

"Yellow Jack," the play, begins in 1929 with yellow fever research in Africa, works back through 1927 to 1900, and then recounts the struggles of the American Yellow Fever Commission in Cuba—the group which made possible the elimination of "yellow jack" on that island and later in the Canal Zone.

Major Walter Reed is shown at work with his associates, James Carroll, Jesse Lazear and Aristides Agramonte, the Cuban doctor. After long months of research, with the disease unchecked among the American forces of occupation, they faced failure until the idea came that the "yellow jack" microbe might be carried on a mosquito.

At the First Cathedral Troop meeting on Friday night fifteen minutes of instruction from their patrol leaders was given. The patrol pennant was awarded to the Curlew Patrol for having the highest number of points for the month in the patrol competition. Some of the First Langford Scouts under Scoutmaster Bullen paid the troop a visit and two games were played with the Langford Troop joining in. The patrols were inspected.

Police arrested Mr. King as he slipped along a boulevard. They said the plates had been stolen.

AUTO LICENSE STORY REJECTED

Chicago, April 30.—Police were told one of the negro brethren of Rev. Charles King's congregation said as the collection plate passed before him:

"I ain't got no money and I ain't got no automobile, either, since I wrecked it the other day. So parson, you just take these license plates and use them on your car."

Police arrested Mr. King as he slipped along a boulevard. They said the plates had been stolen.

THE Lone Wolf's Son

By Louis Joseph Vance

"It would have been," Crane with ambiguous readiness agreed. "He had to do something, naturally, to keep himself a piece of credit. These French chicks are the hottest ever, to hear them tell it. It wouldn't have looked right to let an amateur up and pry him right out of the picture."

"You do not like M. Mon. I take it?"

"I don't think as much of him as he does, that's a fact. And what he thinks of me is nobody's business."

"You are—if the question is not indiscreet—professionally at odds, then?"

"Isn't that so much?" Crane said with an utterly open face. "I've had to thank me to 'tend to my own knittin'. That ruckus last night wouldn't have come off if he hadn't been up-stage with me. I tried to wise him that Jack-knife and English Archie probably had heels planted somewhere on board, but he wouldn't listen. That sort of thing was likely enough, he admitted, on an American ship or maybe a British; but—dirty work on decks that were legally the domain of the sacred soil of that dear France? Monahoo-lee A-may-ray-caine was pleased to be comical."

CHAPTER XXII

"It is your belief that this Etienne Carrel is an understrapper of our smoking-room friends?"

"I'd bet money on it. If things hadn't turned out like they did," Crane pursued, studiously tamping his pipe again—to show that Lanyard was at liberty to look as he liked, he wasn't watching. "I've guessed they sent him on to you to put the fear of Satan in your innocent heart—figurin' maybe you didn't realize the intricate combination you were buckin'."

On this, Crane paused with a frank grin for Lanyard, as much as to say: "Well, that's that. I've let you see I'm nobody's fool, but well-disposed. But if you don't think it's time to make use of me as a friend, if you prefer to keep your counsel yet a while, there's no harm done, and something gained: we understand each other." To which Lanyard returned a smile of entire comprehension.

"And I'm keepin' you up, and you don't know what for yet."

"I am not impatient—I who never spend a minute in your company without profit. You were speaking of Madame Boyce and her friends, intimating that you questioned their motives in making money of my son."

"They're a hard lot," Crane gravely nodded. "That little lady has never been known to do something for nothing. If she's pickin' up with your Maurice now it's for purpose. She's as cold as they come—never been in love yet with anything but a big bank account."

"Oh, come now! Surely a little dinner, a social evening, is no more than a polite return for service rendered."

"You'd think so; but you don't know all I know. Let me tell you there's more community of interest than people are aware of between the underworld and the high-steppers in New York's night life. Tess Boyce wouldn't last a week—bummin' around night-clubs and lookin' like Tiffany's show window—the way she does; she'd go the way Doc King went and be found cold in bed some morning without so much as a rhinestone. If she didn't have protection, if she didn't stand in with the racketeers, take this Isquith mug she's so thick with: Where'd he come from? Where'd he pick up his money? Who gave him his license to act like that, as if the run of folks were dirt beneath his feet, when he's trainin' all the time with the Bank and her kind? If he was the heavy as-toot he lets on, he'd rather be seen dead than in such company. What's this Sultan of Swat, or whatever his name is, taggin' along with the likes of Tess for? I'd admire to tell you."

"Please do."

"When I know for sure, I will. Just now, I'm here to tell you something I'm sure about. After you'd left that party flat this evening—"

"You said the stake was high, but I looked for you before I came back and couldn't find out."

"Yeah; not bein' seen when I don't want to is part of my art. After you cleared out, somebody suggested a game of contract. They took a table in the smokin'-room and kept the stakes high and the liquor flowin'. The Paasha of Phut is a nut about cards; Isquith plays a mean hand; and Tess Boyce is no slouch, but the coin they let that kid of yours win was somethin' awful. The session broke up about half an hour ago; Isquith blew off to bed and the old Royal Nibe—and nice grubs and worms inside it," said the Woodpecker, "went home. Tess took your boy for a walk on deck—said the night was simply too divine for anybody to turn in so early."

"Awhile later I accidentally passed behind them while they were holding the rail down in a dark stretch of the boat-deck. If the young one's left ear wasn't blistered, it's a miracle—her red head was so near it. I heard her say: 'You're too smart, big boy, let him put that line of bologny over on you. You know as well as I do, all this stuff about reformation is just elocution. Then the wind got in my pipe and sparks caught her eye, and she looked around and saw me. So I ambled on and minded my own business. All the same, she'd seen me. So I came on down to wise you before she could broadcast the tip-off. By to-morrow mornin' they'll be spottin' me every minute or else I'm crazy. I won't feel safe in passin' the time o' day with you above a whisper."

"But why?" Lanyard remonstrated. "What conceivable end has Mademoiselle Boyce to gain by poisoning Maurice's mind against me?"

"I might make a guess, but if it wasn't good, she could sue me for criminal slander. It's horn right into what this Freddy Isquith's right name is and what His Tan Highness is doin' so far from home, and makin' thoopee with tramps—and maybe I'll tell you. But if it was my boy, I know what I'd do." Crane pursued, rising and giving Lanyard's hand a hard squeeze. "It's horn right into that line-up, edge Maurice out, and keep both ears open to catch their signals. Good night—and don't forget to lock the door behind me."

If Lanyard lay wakeful till nearly dawn, mulling over the new questions which Crane's call had opened, the new aspects it lent old ones, and all to no profit; if he dropped off at length on no more comfortable finding than that he and his son both were meshed in a web of intrigue that would tax his every resource to

Uncle Wiggly and the Hole Bird

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Now don't forget, Mr. Longears, if you please," called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy as the jolly old rabbit gentleman started to hop away from his hollow stump bungalow one morning. "Remember!"

"I will," he promised, and away he went, his pink nose twinkling in the sun. For this was the last day of April. The showers had ended, Uncle Wiggly no longer carried his umbrella.

"And," he said to himself as he hopped along, "I hope we shall soon have some May flowers."

"I wonder what it is that Uncle Wig has to remember me to forget?" said Baby Bunty, as she hopped along to school with the twin sisters, Jingle and Jangle.

"Oh, it's something that mother told him to get at the store for her while he is out adventuring," said Jingle.

"Oh, dear!" murmured Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit.

"What's the matter?" asked Jangle. "I was sort of hoping that maybe Uncle Wig was to remember to bring home some candied carrots. But, using all the baby talk she was allowed, which was just the rabbit gentleman's name, 'Uncle Wig.'"

"Oh, it could be nice if he did," spoke Jingle.

"But it isn't candy, I'm sure," said Jangle. "It's just something for the kitchen. I think it's waffles. Nurse Jane spoke to daddy as he was hopping away."

"I suppose so," said Baby Bunty. The rabbit children hopped on their way to school and Uncle Wiggly hopped on his way to have an adventure and also to get something.

"I hope I don't forget what my wife and Nurse Jane told me to bring home," said Mr. Longears as he hopped along. "I know I am very forgetful, but I am especially when I'm going adventuring. But my wife told me if I forgot this to remember it begins with the letter C. I think I can do that."

It was a beautiful day and Uncle Wiggly kept on hopping and hopping until he was a long distance from his hollow stump bungalow. But, as yet, he had seen no adventure. All of a sudden, though, he heard a noise near him as though some one were knocking very fast upon a door.

"I wonder who that is?" said Mr. Longears, speaking out loud. "It can't be any one knocking at a door, for there are no doors here in the wood. Though there are a lot of hollow trees out of which doors are made. I hope this is none of the Bad Chaps."

Mr. Longears looked carefully around and he felt happier when he saw that the knocking sound was being made by a bird who was tapping a long thin bit up and down on the dead branch of a tree.

"Oh, it's my friend, the hole bird!" laughed the rabbit gentleman.

"Yes, you're right, you might call a hole bird," chattered the Woodpecker, for such he was. "I'm drilling a hole for a hole in this old dead branch to get at some nice grubs and worms inside it," said the Woodpecker, "and you, my friend, the hole bird," politely asked Uncle Wig, nodding his head, which had a little knot of red feathers on it like a top.

"Thank you, no, I don't eat grubs or bugs or worms," spoke the bunny uncle. "Though they are very good for birds, aren't they?"

"Very good, indeed," was the answer. Then the Woodpecker kept on making holes in the tree branch and Uncle Wiggly, thinking that seeing this jolly bird was adventure enough for one day, started back home.

Then, all of a sudden, he remembered what his wife had told him to do—to bring something from the store.

"But what in the world did she tell me to get?" asked the rabbit. "I remember I was to bring something, but what was it? Ah, what a wretched memory I have! Let me see, it was something that began with the letter C. I remember that much. But so many things begin with C."

Then Uncle Wiggly heard the Woodpecker still tapping away at the tree and the rabbit gentleman hopped back and called him, saying:

"What begins with the letter C, hole bird? My wife and Nurse Jane told me to be sure and bring home something that begins with C. But I can't remember. Perhaps you can help me."

"Hum, C, C, let me see!" laughed the Woodpecker. "How about a piece of cheese?"

"That's the very thing!" How lucky! exclaimed Uncle Wiggly. "My wife and Nurse Jane told me to bring cheese. Thank you, hole bird! Now everything is all right." So Uncle Wiggly started to hop to the store to get a piece of cheese and he had a strange adventure. He told you about it to-morrow night when the story will be Uncle Wiggly's wrong cheese. But don't let the dog put his tail on backward when he goes to the store for a loaf of cake.

Province Expected To Win Canadian Cage Title This Evening

B.C. Champions Won Second Game Saturday 43 to 38 After Overtime

HOCKEY IS all through in Canada for another season, but down east a great war is raging between Toronto sport scribes who didn't like the antics of the Moncton Hawks in the Allan Cup play-downs and in the international series that followed them, and Maritime writers. Lou Marsh, of The Toronto Star, has been the particular target of the writers from Nova Scotia. Writing in his column recently Marsh said:

"Practically every one of these columnists and correspondents admits the Hawks to be a professional team in everything except official rating, and pulls the old comeback, 'we imported and packed a team with your own western stars and beat you at your own game.'"

"And every one of them winds up with, 'Ya can't take it.' What about the Maple Leaf juniors—the packed St. Michael's College all-stars' which last year laid the O.H.A. over the barrel?"

"And most of them 'admit' as far as they are concerned, and glory in the allegation—the Hawks-outsmarted Toronto gamblers by 'stealing' off the first games of each of the final series. These correspondents seem to think that it was a smart thing for the Hawks to 'steal' the gamblers—if they did cheat them."

"Every one of them admits the Hawks could have trimmed either the Fort William Blues or the Detroit White Stars five or six or even more in every game, and seem to regard it as an honest and decent thing for the Hawks to 'steal' off or manipulate a game at any time to suit their own purposes."

"Maybe it is—according to certain Maritime sport standards!"

Taking up the cudgels on behalf of the Hawks, Jimmy Smith of the Halifax Herald, lets loose with the following:

"Well, Mr. Lou Marsh, the truth of the matter is the Moncton Hawks never did like that town either. I mean Toronto—the city of chipping critics!"

"Or perhaps it's not the town—but the squawking serebrate that buzzed in their ears from the moment they stepped on Ontario's soil."

"To the Hawks it's like music to the gambler's ears—when the serebrate buzzed, they're squawking plenty."

"They've got the Leafs—but no Stanley Cup. They had an all-star senior aggregation in the Toronto—but no Allan Cup. They can boast Jerry LaFramme, his 'Dominator' junior championship team, and the Memorial Cup—but what of it!"

"In short, Toronto, after all, could not cope one of the major ice prizes—and they just don't like it. And why not? Isn't it enough the hoop to send that town—although you would not know it if someone didn't tip you off."

"The feeling toward the Hawks might have changed had the North American champions descended to the point of giving Maple Leaf Gardens the biggest break of the season by playing St. Mike's. That would have been a feather—yes, full head-dress for a winning team—in somebody's bonnet, had it been the Hawks' but the Hawks didn't fall for $3,500 a share of a $25,000 gate—about 15 per cent—and naturally they're not a popular team with the powers that be. The Allan Cup champions are one thing, but the Hawks are not."

"Almost daily the Toronto press shoots a straight-arm at the Hawks as if they were a commercial condition by Johnny Bus in The Winnipeg Tribune. His contribution in part follows:

"The way things stand, there is no reason in the world why various clubs could not adopt a commercial name and play under it. Players are imported in wholesale lots to build up teams and what the others are left to do is to 'sell' the team. This is to your Uncle Henry, they are not jumping from one spot to another, just for their health."

"Take for example the Moncton Hawks. It is openly said the twice Allan Cup holders are amateurs name only, and secondly, not a player on the squad is a native of Moncton. Singularly enough, although the Hawks represent a city of about 20,000, they are able to maintain a team of this calibre."

"The Moncton squad functions like a major league hockey entity. Before the opening of the season, the players go through a fortnight of training under a physical director and spend a week on the ice before the first game. Rumors have been around and still are, that the payroll of the Hawks is about $600 weekly. Where the money comes from is another puzzle. Certainly a club like Moncton can't be that wealthy."

"The Moncton incident is only one of many. There are others going on all the time and so far the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has not brought to a dockyard here for overhaul and refitting in preparation for the racing season."

"The vessel's high bulwarks have been removed, a step which has reduced her weight by a considerable amount."

"Britannia's mast, a silver spruce spar weighing two and three quarters tons and rising 176 feet, as believed the tallest on a racing yacht in the world."

Portsmouth, Eng., April 30.—The King's yacht, Britannia, has been brought to a dockyard here for overhaul and refitting in preparation for the racing season."

PURVES PLAYS LEADING ROLE

Canadian Press
Montreal, April 30.—Imbued with a do-or-die spirit, Montreal Nationales today faced the almost insurmountable task of overcoming the two-game lead accumulated by Vancouver Province in the Canadian senior basketball championship.

For the third and possibly the last time the eastern and western top-notchers face each other tonight for possession of the Montreal Sportsmen's Cup, put up by Montrealers, but never won by a Montreal team.

In a dramatic game Saturday night the Pacific Coast five downed the Nationales 43 to 38, but only after five minutes of overtime, forced by Murray Patrick's tying basket five seconds from the end of the regular game. The first game, played Thursday night, twelve hours after the westerners arrived from Winnipeg, resulted in the initial win for the Province by a score of 49 to 42. If necessary, fourth and fifth games will be staged to-morrow and Thursday.

While happy over their advantage, the Vancouverites were by no means over-confident. Coach Charles "Chuck" Jones hesitated for a moment over the outcome of tonight's game and then refused to commit himself. In the Nationales dressing-room a determined last-ditch feeling was in evidence.

Sam Levy and Frank Sharpe, whose game caused a storm of controversy and hasty telegraphing and telephoning from one end of Canada to the other, will be the whistle-blowers for tonight's game. O. G. Harris, eastern secretary of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, announced to-day.

Down two points as the final five seconds began to tick away, Murray Patrick, centre forward, received a pass at centre front. A few quick steps, a pause, a high lengthy shot launched by steady hands and the ball sailed through the hoop to send the crowd of nearly 3,000 into wild cheers. The score tied, five minutes of overtime was ordered and Vancouver plumped home seven points against two for Montreal.

The westerners led at the beginning of the first half, only to lose the advantage as the speed of the Nationales was opened wide. For a few minutes Vancouver regained the lead, but Nationales finished the half in front, 18 to 17. The British Columbian turned on their sure-shooting attack in the second half and remained in the lead, although the final score was two before the final glorious but ultimately futile catch-up.

The sureness of the western championship shooting was fully revealed in the shot totals. Out of eighty-eight attempts they scored eighteen field goals, while Nationales obtained thirteen out of seventy-three. In the free throw department Vancouver tallied seven out of seventeen, while Nationales made twelve out of twenty-two.

U.S. GOLFERS IN SCOTLAND

Glasgow, Scotland, April 30.—The Walker Cup golf squad of the United States, led by Francis Ouimet, completed the Atlantic crossing yesterday evening and rushed off immediately to St. Andrews where they will meet Britain's picked amateurs in the eighth international series May 11 and 12.

Fired but in excellent spirits, the Americans expressed confidence in their ability to preserve their perfect record of seven straight wins in the cup series. The team planned to get its first practice at St. Andrews to-day.

Victoria West Win Province Cup Final

Harry Youson's Goal in Dying Minutes of Initial Half Gives Greenhirts 1 to 0 Victory Over Saanich Thistles; Fast Play Seen

Garnering the only tally of the match three minutes before the end of the initial half, during which they had a distinct edge in the play, Victoria West scored eleven to zero at 1 to 0 victory over the Saanich Thistles in the local final of the Province Cup soccer series Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park. The win advanced the Greenhirts to the competition proper and gave them the right to represent Victoria as the winner of the St. Saviours-Nanaimo match here in the next few weeks.

Functioning better as a team, and displaying the best football, the Wests were deserving of victory. The Thistles had a decidedly off day, their forward line in particular failing to flash any brilliant or neatly-executed plays, while their shooting was erratic. On the other hand, a strong Greenshirt intermediate rank of Storey, Barnes and Stewart, broke up many attacks by the Thistles, particularly in the second half, when the suburban eleven was much more impressive, while Okeil and Thompson, who sent fullbacks, tended nicely. Art Griffith, playing his second consecutive week between the sticks for the Wests, handled the few chances he had with his usual brilliancy.

THISTLES ATTACK

Thistles opened with determination, but this early attack was repulsed and play swung to the other end of the field, where Youson skied over the framework after meeting Storey's long ball with a first time drive. With the Wests keeping up the pressure, Youson tested Rowe with a weak shot, and then Peers sent in a long drive which the Saanich goalie had no difficulty in handling. Minutes later Leggett hit the far corner upright in attempting to head clear.

Shortly Okeil, second division player, patrolling the left lane for the Greenhirts in admirable style, crossed nicely and Peers tapped the bounding shot at Rowe. The goalie lapped the ball clear and Peers rushed into and took the rebound with a shot that missed the upright.

Thistles broke up the attack momentarily, but the Greenhirts were carried by the field into the West's end and crossed in front of the goal, but there were no West forwards in position to take advantage of the play. Minutes later he crossed again, and this time Youson skied over when just outside the penalty area. With the Greenhirts still attacking, Gibbons deflected Youson's hot drive, the ball going for a corner.

Breaking up the attack the Thistles carried play to the West's territory and took the field with a strong attack and after L. Gibbons had crossed Morgan sagged the outside of the net with a first time drive. Returning play to soon opponents' end of the field, Gibbons came close to scoring when Robinson sent in a stinging shot,

Washington Runs Streak To Three

American Baseball League Champions Whip Philadelphia 7 to 6 to Get Out of Second Division; Chicago Cubs and New York Giants Both Beaten

Joe Cronin's rather drastic move a few days ago when he shook up the entire lineup and benched three veteran regulars in an effort to stir the Senators out of a losing spell, appears to have borne some fruit already.

Ossie Bluege is the only one who has remained in the dugout since Joe decided to toss a scare into his squad, but three straight victories have finally lifted Washington out of the second division. The Senators' second 7 to 6 triumph in succession over Philadelphia Athletics hoisted them into fourth place yesterday.

Cronin had to take matters into his own hands to pull out the decision in the ninth inning after Jimmy Foss had clouted his fourth home run of the season in the third, and the A's had thumped Al Crowder from the hill. Cronin smashed a single with runners on second and third, and drove in the deciding runs.

DETROIT BEATEN

The Senators could not gain much ground as Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees, two of the three top clubs, also won. Cleveland trimmed the league-leading Tigers 7 to 1 before Detroit's largest Sunday baseball gathering in two years, 30,500. Oral Hildebrand and Lloyd Brown gave the Indians a six-hit mound performance. The Ruth-Gehrig-Gomes combination carried the Yanks to a 3 to 2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox before 50,000 fans. Gomes hurled six-hit ball. Ruth tied the score in the eighth with a circuit drive, and Gehrig singled in the winning run in the ninth.

Big Jim Westover, St. Louis, held Chicago's White Sox to four blows, one a home run by Al Simmons, to win 6 to 2.

National league clubs had another home-run fiesta, as both the pace setters, the Chicago Cubs and New York Giants, were thoroughly beaten. A pair of homers by Gabby Hartnett failed to bring Chicago's decision over St. Louis and the Cards pounded out a 9 to 4 decision.

Mel Ott's fifth circuit drive of the season provided the feature of the Giant-Boston struggle, but the Braves won 6 to 4 by smacking Hal Schumacher for four runs in the fifth. Postmaster's slugger, working sailing over the Pittsburgh fences as the Pirates played their first Sunday home game, but Pittsburgh gave Red Lucas a 9 to 4 triumph over his old team, Cincinnati.

Brooklyn won out 8 to 7 over the Phillies in another give-and-take struggle, while sawing pitchers used. The Phils got six of their runs in the second, while the Dodgers came back with a pair of four-run outbursts.

Women Athletes Vote For Shorts

Tennis and Softball Players Adopt Costumes Which Give Freedom In Game And There Appears to Be No Criticism.

By popular vote women tennis players of Victoria have put their O.K. on shorts. Last summer they were induced to Victoria players by a Seattle visitor during one of the tournaments.

With the ice broken one or two Victoria "fashion" players donned shorts before the season ended.

Observations this season indicate that before the year is over they may be the rule rather than the exception. About half of the women are wearing shorts while the other half wear skirts. Spectators and players admire the shorts and no questions suggesting they are immodest seem to be raised.

The shorts are also being adopted for other games. Two teams of girls' softball players (turned out for a game the other day all dressed in shorts in their own shorts and some in dresses with the skirts of those who have adopted the shorts being increased as the season progresses.

Promotion Holds Soccer Interest

English League Puzzle Will Be Settled By Final Matches Next Week; Second Division Teams Still Fight Relegation; Scottish Season Finished

London, April 30.—The Arsenal have the English League soccer championship again, although the season does not end until next Saturday. The Gunners, winners of the soccer title last year and in 1931, cannot be caught now.

Another problem settled by Saturday's penultimate matches was that of demotion from the first to the second division. Sheffield United and Newcastle United are the victims. Chelsea and other clubs in danger for weeks are now past the hurdle.

But a lot of other puzzles will not be solved until the last matches are played. Bolton Wanderers and Preston North End remain deadlocked for the right to accompany Grimsby Town for the second to the first division. If both win next week and goals are equal, Bolton has a shade better average. Brentford has a chance too.

At the bottom of the second division, the clubs are still fighting desperately to avoid relegation. Lincoln City is on the way out, but following Saturday's matches it is still uncertain whether they will be accompanied by Manchester United, Millwall or Swans Town.

ARE CONGRATULATED

Norwich City has received thousands of messages of congratulations on their winning the championship of the southern section and the right to go up into the second division. But Barnsley and Chesterfield are still in a grim deadlock for the lead of the northern section, while Stockport County is conceded an outside chance, thanks to a fine goal average.

At the fall of the whole league, Cardiff City in the southern section and Rochdale in the northern will be forced to apply for re-election next season.

The Arsenal got the point needed to clinch the championship in a great match at Chelsea's grounds Saturday, where 65,000 children were allowed to sit around the touchlines. The crowd showered them with new-

Joe Wright Jr. Improved To-day

Toronto, April 30.—Joe Wright Jr., seriously ill from blood poisoning and internal hemorrhages, was given a fourth blood transfusion to-day. Wright, former holder of the Diamond Sculls, was taken ill last week and has now received four transfusions. Ernest Weip-ton, Argonaut Rowing Club, was the donor to-day. Doctors were cheered to-day when it was found Wright slept for two hours yesterday evening without being given opiates.

papers so they would have dry sitting space. Arsenal tied the Penelions 2 to 2, and the point came in valuable for both teams, at different ends of the field. The play was fast and vigorous. Chelsea were quicker on the ball and seeded the more aggressive side. James scored for the gunners after half an hour, but Horton equalized at the start of the second half. Then Bastin got the lead for the Gunners, only to see Miles equalize.

Huddersfield Town meanwhile were winning at home over Blackburn Rovers, 3 to 2. Huddersfield will finish second, perhaps only a point behind Arsenal. Tottenham Hotspurs wound up their campaign with a 4 to 1 win over Sheffield Wednesday at White Hart Lane, and finish in third place, but Manchester City, the cup winners, still have a chance to beat Derby County out of fourth place.

Grimsby Town, although already sure of promotion, rammed in the goals when Blackpool visited them Saturday and wound up with a 7 to 0 victory. Both Bolton and Preston were at home, and neither took any chances in the keen struggle for promotion with Grimsby. Bolton White-washed Millwall, 6 to 4, and Preston had a 2 to 0 win over Fulham.

Glasgow, April 30.—The struggle between Airdrieonians and Third Lanark to escape relegation from the first to the second division of the Scottish Football League is over, with Airdrieonians the winners. Third Lanark will go down with Cowdenbeath, while Albion Rovers and Dunfermline take their places.

The Scottish season that started back in August ended Saturday, with the exception of an outstanding game in the second division and two in the first. They will make no difference, except perhaps to boost Rangers' winning margin.

The Rangers, who clinched the championship of the league during the week, increased their margin to three points by beating Hamilton 4 to 2. The champions and cupholders won comfortably, Nicholson, Venters, Smith and McKelvie scoring, while Benzie and King scored for the visitors.

Airdrieonians split points in a 1 to 1 draw with Ayr United, while Third Lanark won over Partick Thistle 3 to 1. The Airdrie eleven, however, now has twenty-six points and Third Lanark twenty-five, and both are finished.

GREAT COMEBACK

Airdrie, needing only one point to be safe, were very keen, but over-anxiety spoiled many promising openings. Ayr got the lead through Rodgers, and with defeat and relegation staring them in the face, Airdrie in sheer desperation scored through Law. There was a great scene of enthusiasm at the finish, the players being carried off the field shoulder-high.

Third Lanark's win at home had all the joy taken out of it by Airdrie's point-getting. They go down after three years in the first division. Hay had all three goals, Miller scoring for the Thistles.

Celtics made sure of third place behind Rangers and Motherwell, by beating St. Mirren, cup finalists, 5 to 1. Celtic are two points ahead of Aberdeen, who held third place for a long time. It was a great revenge for the defeat in the cup competition by St. Mirren. Geatons and F. O'Donnell scored, McGregor getting the Saints' counter.

Albion Rovers won the second division championship in their last game, the only one played in the division, beating Dundee United 3 to 2. Dunfermline and Arbroath finished in a tie at a point each, but Dunfermline, with the better goal average, gets the promotion.

HUDDESFIELD SECOND

Huddersfield Town meanwhile were winning at home over Blackburn Rovers, 3 to 2. Huddersfield will finish second, perhaps only a point behind Arsenal. Tottenham Hotspurs wound up their campaign with a 4 to 1 win over Sheffield Wednesday at White Hart Lane, and finish in third place, but Manchester City, the cup winners, still have a chance to beat Derby County out of fourth place.

TENNIS ENTRIES CLOSE MAY 15

Tuesday, May 15, is the final date for filing entries with the Vancouver Island Tennis League, officials of the league announce. Teams wishing to enter should send their applications to Stan Holman, league secretary, 708 Cook Street.

A special meeting of the league was held last week, the temporary committee being re-elected to carry on, with the following additions to it: Dr. A. Foynt, Noel R. Staples and G. Ford.

Rugby Classic Is Off For One Year

B.C. English Rugby Union Decides to Discontinue McKeech Cup Series For Season Owing to Financial Reasons; Officers Are Re-elected

Vancouver, April 30.—Discontinuation of British Columbia's premier English rugby series, the McKeech Cup games, for one season, inclusion of a fourth member to the British Columbia Rugby Union, and a possibility that the crack side from the combined Universities of Oxford and Cambridge would play on the coast next year, were highlights of the British Columbia body's annual meeting here Saturday.

Decision to discontinue the McKeech Cup series for one season, due to financial reasons, was made on a resolution offered by Vancouver. Previously, Victoria, who, with Vancouver, felt that Varsity was to blame, had offered a resolution asking that the students withdraw from competition or that a union entering the series must have had at least two sides playing during the season. After some discussion it was decided to adopt the milder Vancouver resolution, and President E. E. Sykes and Jim Scott were instructed to interview Dr. R. E. McKeech with regard to the action.

NEW UNION

North Shore All-Blacks were admitted to the British Columbia organization and classed as the North Shore Rugby Union. The other two members of the provincial body are the Victoria Rugby Union, the Vancouver Rugby Union and the University of British Columbia Rugby Union.

It is expected that three, and possibly four, teams will operate in the North Shore organization next season, including one from West Vancouver.

At least four or five California universities have asked for contests with British Columbia teams, and the combined side of Oxford and Cambridge Universities, which toured the eastern United States, intimated a desire to play here next spring after a contemplated exhibition series in eastern Canada this fall.

SAME OFFICERS

Headed by E. E. Sykes, who was re-elected president, practically the entire slate of officers of the British Columbia Rugby Union was returned intact at the general annual meeting of the organization.

R. H. McInnes (Victoria), Claire Underhill (Vancouver), and R. B. Ker (Victoria), were re-elected vice-presidents.

H. J. Ketchen (Victoria) will fill the office of secretary for another year. Murray Rowan (Vancouver) was selected as treasurer.

Lieutenant-Governor Fordham Johnson was named honorary president.

Honorary vice-presidents are: F. W. Rounsell, Colonel Victor Spencer, Dr. R. E. McKeech, Dr. J. M. Pearson, C. E. Tisdall, Mayor David Leeming (Victoria), Mayor L. D. Taylor (Vancouver), Major-General A. Ashton, C.M.G., V.D. (Victoria), Commander G. C. Jones, R.C.N., F. J. Burd and Dr. L. S. Klinek.

New Zealand XV To Tour Canada

London, April 30.—The New Zealand Rugby Union team, which will play a series of twenty-eight matches in England next fall and winter, has received permission to tour Canada in the spring of 1935. The English Rugby Union has approved of the tour, subject to satisfactory financial arrangements being made.

Expected to arrive here in September, the New Zealanders will play a four-months' schedule of games in England and Scotland.

Brown Cup Won By Royal Oak

Defeat Jokers 3 to 1 in Final Fixture to Terminate Successful Season

Defeating the Jokers 3 to 1 Saturday afternoon at Heywood Avenue in the final fixture of the Brown Cup series, Royal Oak's smart junior football eleven terminated one of its most successful seasons. In addition to winning the Brown Cup, the clever suburban team copped the Dr. Lewis Hall trophy, symbol of the league title, and the Lower Island Football Association Cup, emblematic of the championship of lower portion of the island. It is the first time in the history of the local association that one club has carried off these three major trophies.

Going on the attack from the start, Royal Oak opened the scoring seven minutes from the commencement of the match, when Reg. Stofor scored during a scramble in the goal mouth. Shortly before the interval Royal Oak made 2 to 0 when Stofor found the net again, this time from a pass by George Payne.

Play resumed at a terrific pace in the second half, each goal being subjected to a number of dangerous attacks. George Payne increased the Royal Oak lead to 3 to 0 ten minutes after the start when he scored during a scramble around the Jokers' goal. Minutes later he just missed with a stinging long shot, which went by the upright.

Les Kennedy saved the Jokers from a whitewash when he scored on a penalty late in the final half.

Tommy Restall, youthful net minder, turned in a sensational performance between the sticks for the Jokers, and but for this fine performance the score against his club would have been much higher. Gibson, Stofor, Robbins and the Payne brothers were the pick of the winners. Saunders handled the whistle.

THE BIG SIX

Melvin Ott of the Giants defied the falling trend of the big batting averages yesterday to boost himself into third place in the standings. Hitting three times, once for his fifth homer, in four trips to the plate, Ott sent his average up forty-one points from its previous 400 mark. Pie Traynor remained idle with .579 average and Carl Reynolds, hitting once in three times, dropped nine points.

Hack Wilson dropped out of the sextet to be replaced by his namesake, Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies, while Bill Dickey came back to take the place of Bill Werber.

LOVELOCK TO PILOT SQUAD

Holder of World Record For Mile Will Lead New Zealand Empire Games Team

Wellington, April 30.—Jack Lovelock, Oxford's mile runner, will lead the New Zealand team in the British Empire Games in England this summer. It will be a small team, packing perhaps more potential championship material than any of the larger squads.

HOME RUN PARADE

Home runs yesterday: Hartnett, Cubs, 2; Ott, Giants, 1; Fox, Athletics, 1; Ruth, Yankees, 1; Simmons, White Sox, 1; Shiver, Reds, 1; Syl, Johnson, Reds, 1; Suhr, Pirates, 1; P. Waner, Pirates, 1; Collins, Cardinals, 1; Mills, Cardinals, 1.

LOVELOCK TO PILOT SQUAD

Should Lovelock reach anything like the form he achieved for the United States four last summer, of the Oxford-Cambridge team, the fair-haired New Zealander will be universally picked to win the Empire mile. His world record 4:07.8 has never been seriously threatened outdoors.

LOVELOCK TO PILOT SQUAD

At the trouble is Lovelock himself may never threaten it again. Pitted against a tremendously fast field, he would have to come close to it to win. It is just a question whether the Empire can produce a runner to make the Oxonian go all out. England's best man is Jack Cornes.

"Y" TRACK STARS HOLD WORKOUT

With the excellent turnout of thirty, the Y.M.C.A. track and field team held a workout Saturday afternoon, and according to Coach Archie McKinnon the results of the practice promise well for the season. The veterans were well represented, and included Chuck Copeland and Joe Roberts.

Wheat Prices Steady At Winnipeg To-day

Winnipeg, April 30.—Struggling against persistent selling, wheat prices managed to hold steady on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, due almost entirely to a bullish display of strength at Chicago. Closing prices were unchanged to 1/2 cent lower.

Final figures were midway between the day's top and bottom levels, with May future quoted at 65 1/2, July at 64 1/2, and October at 63 1/2 cents.

Chicago offered encouragement, with an upturn of more than 1 1/2 cents, but local selling was quite persistent.

Commission houses were noticeable sellers, while other liquidation was accounted for by spreading operations. Traders estimated foreign business at between 400,000 and 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat.

Liverpool wheat closed unchanged to 1/4 cent lower.

Cash grain operations were insignificant while coarse grains held steady.

Concentrated buying of July delivery of wheat, representing the new 1934 crop, was an outstanding feature, and was attributed largely to sources northwest. Although some selling resulted from eagerness of securities, the wheat market as a whole was thoroughly dominated by the unfavorable outlook for crops.

Wheat closed strong, 1 1/2 to 2 cents up, corn 1/2 to 1 3/4 up, oats 1/2 to 1 1/2 advanced, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a rise of five cents.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

By Alex Pringle, Canadian Press Financial Writer

Toronto, April 30.—The agitation fostered by the mining and brokerage interests against the ten per cent tax on gold, attended by recurring periods of hope and doubt, that the government would heed the protests, kept the Canadian mining markets in a highly nervous state last week.

A moderate rally early in the week was succeeded by heavy selling and lower prices on Thursday and Friday. From Friday morning's low level the market staged a rally of considerable proportions when a report was spread that the government might cancel the tax plan and substitute one based on the net income of mining companies rather than on their gross sales.

Friday's closing prices compared with those of a week ago, found Lake Shore up fifty cents, Dome and Pioneer twenty-five cents each, Hollinger and Teck Hughes down fifty cents each and Errolme and Wright Hargreaves down about twenty-five cents each.

These leaders were off fifty cents to 85 from the prices ruling before the tax was announced.

Silver issues were given a mild shake-down by the failure of the silver bloc at Washington to get anywhere so far with the proposed remonetization plan. Eldorado also had to contend with cool public reception of its annual statement earnings. The price closed yesterday up about thirty cents from its low for a net loss of fifty cents in the week.

So far copper stocks have refused to get excited about the adoption of a copper code in the United States. Noranda finished the week with a loss of sixty cents for which the gold tax may be held responsible. Other copper stocks showed little change. Canadian industrial stocks continued to trail the New York market where the influence of falling commodity prices, partial break-up of the silver plan, the stock exchange control measure and uncertainty about the lengths to which Washington interference in business will be carried have left bulls with no heart for the advance at present.

Chicago, April 30 (Associated Press).—Almost 100,000,000 bushels of wheat crop this season is expected to result from extraordinary prevailing moisture shortage in the northwest. Authoritative trade reports issued to-day point out this year's domestic spring area is practically the same as in 1915, when a total of 19,000,000 acres produced 330,000,000 bushels, but that it is doubtful now whether the 1934 output will reach 240,000,000 bushels. The main trouble this season, the report says, is that there is virtually no reserve moisture in the Dakotas or western Minnesota, and furthermore that surface moisture is lacking over an unusually wide expanse.

Largely as a result of sensational drought reports, and despite May liquidation, the wheat market this morning compared with a week ago was 4-1/4 cents a bushel higher, whereas corn showed 3/4 to one cent less, oats were unchanged to 3/4 off, and provisions 22 cents to 35 cents down.

Winnipeg, April 30.—Eyes of the grain trader to-day were focussed on the weatherman as crop conditions continued the dominant factor in the wheat market. Weather conditions providing a steady influence in outside markets, and this was reflected at Winnipeg where prices saw within a narrow range during the past week.

High winds in the absence of rainfall which caused drifting of soil over a large part of the North American wheat belt, arrested the downward tendency of wheat values. Seeding operations were hampered.

Wheat wound up the six-day session with values unchanged to 3/4 higher, with May holding at 64 1/2, July and October advanced fractionally to 65 1/2 and 67 1/2 to 67 3/4, respectively. Little or importance occurred in cash and coarse grain markets during the six-day period. A flurry in flax sent futures a trifle higher, but other grains held fairly steady with wheat.

Junior football final with Port's Radio yesterday by scoring a 3 to 1 victory over Cumberland Wanderers. United started off well when Hallman converted a penalty kick for them before the game was two minutes old. Gibson shot wide of the mark for Cumberland on another penalty awarded three minutes later.

Hulme increased Duncan's advantage at the twenty-five minute mark, and the score remained unchanged until only five minutes were left to play in the first half. Gibson scored at this time with the best shot of the half.

Alton, inside forward for Duncan, gave his team a two-goal lead midway through the final session.

WOOD LEADS RIFLE SHOOT

Work Point Marksman Heads Weekly Competition at Heals Range With 100

Dropping two points at the 200 and 300 yard ranges, and but a single point at 600 yards, Q.M.S.I. W. H. Wood, Garrison, put on a score of 100 out of a possible 105, to lead the marksman at the weekly shoot of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association at Heals Range Saturday afternoon.

One point behind the leader, with a score of 99, was Sergeant-major W. H. Ruffell, also from Work Point. Sergeant A. E. Ashe, Canadian Scottish, was third with a score of 95. Apart from a slight rain at the 300 and 600 yard ranges, conditions for shooting were good.

Wednesday of this week will mark the inauguration of mid-week shoots at the range. Members with cars are asked to pass the corner of Douglas and Yates Streets to pick up those who have no means of transportation.

MARIGOLD IN CUP VICTORY

Aces Defeat Victoria West Cubs 2 to 0 in Colist Cup Soccer Final

Marigold Aces, juvenile soccer eleven, clinched a great season's play Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park when they defeated Victoria West Cubs, 2 to 0, in the Colist Cup final. The Aces had previously won the Sam Lorimer Cup, emblematic of the Royal Juvenile Athletic Association Football League, when they nosed out the Victoria West Cubs by a lone point in a lengthy schedule of fixtures.

Played as a preliminary to the Province Cup match between Victoria West and the Saanich Thistles, the Colist Cup fixture saw the youngsters displaying some good football. The first half went scoreless, but the champions ran in two markers in the second half to walk off the field with a 2 to 0 victory.

Victoria West had quite a margin in the first half play, but failed to take advantage of their opportunities.

Dalmore, Cubs' forward, missed scoring on a penalty kick about midway through this half.

Marigold opened much stronger in the second half and after fifteen minutes of play Medler scored the first marker when he moved in fast and beat Simpson with a well-placed shot.

The Cubs went on the offensive from the centre and staged many dangerous attacks, but their forwards missed many fine chances of scoring. With the end of the game rapidly approaching, Myles put the game in the cooler for the Aces when his high shot hit under the crossbar and rebounded into the net.

Shrimpton refereed.

The teams:

Marigold Aces—Moss, Allen, Lemon, Alexander, Deat, Snoblin, Medler, McDonald, Watt, Ralph and Myles.

Victoria West—Simpson, Blake, Blackstock, Hornsby, Oskell, Dalmore, Carlow, Sage, McMillan, Gent and Noble.

GRADS TAKE HOOP CROWN

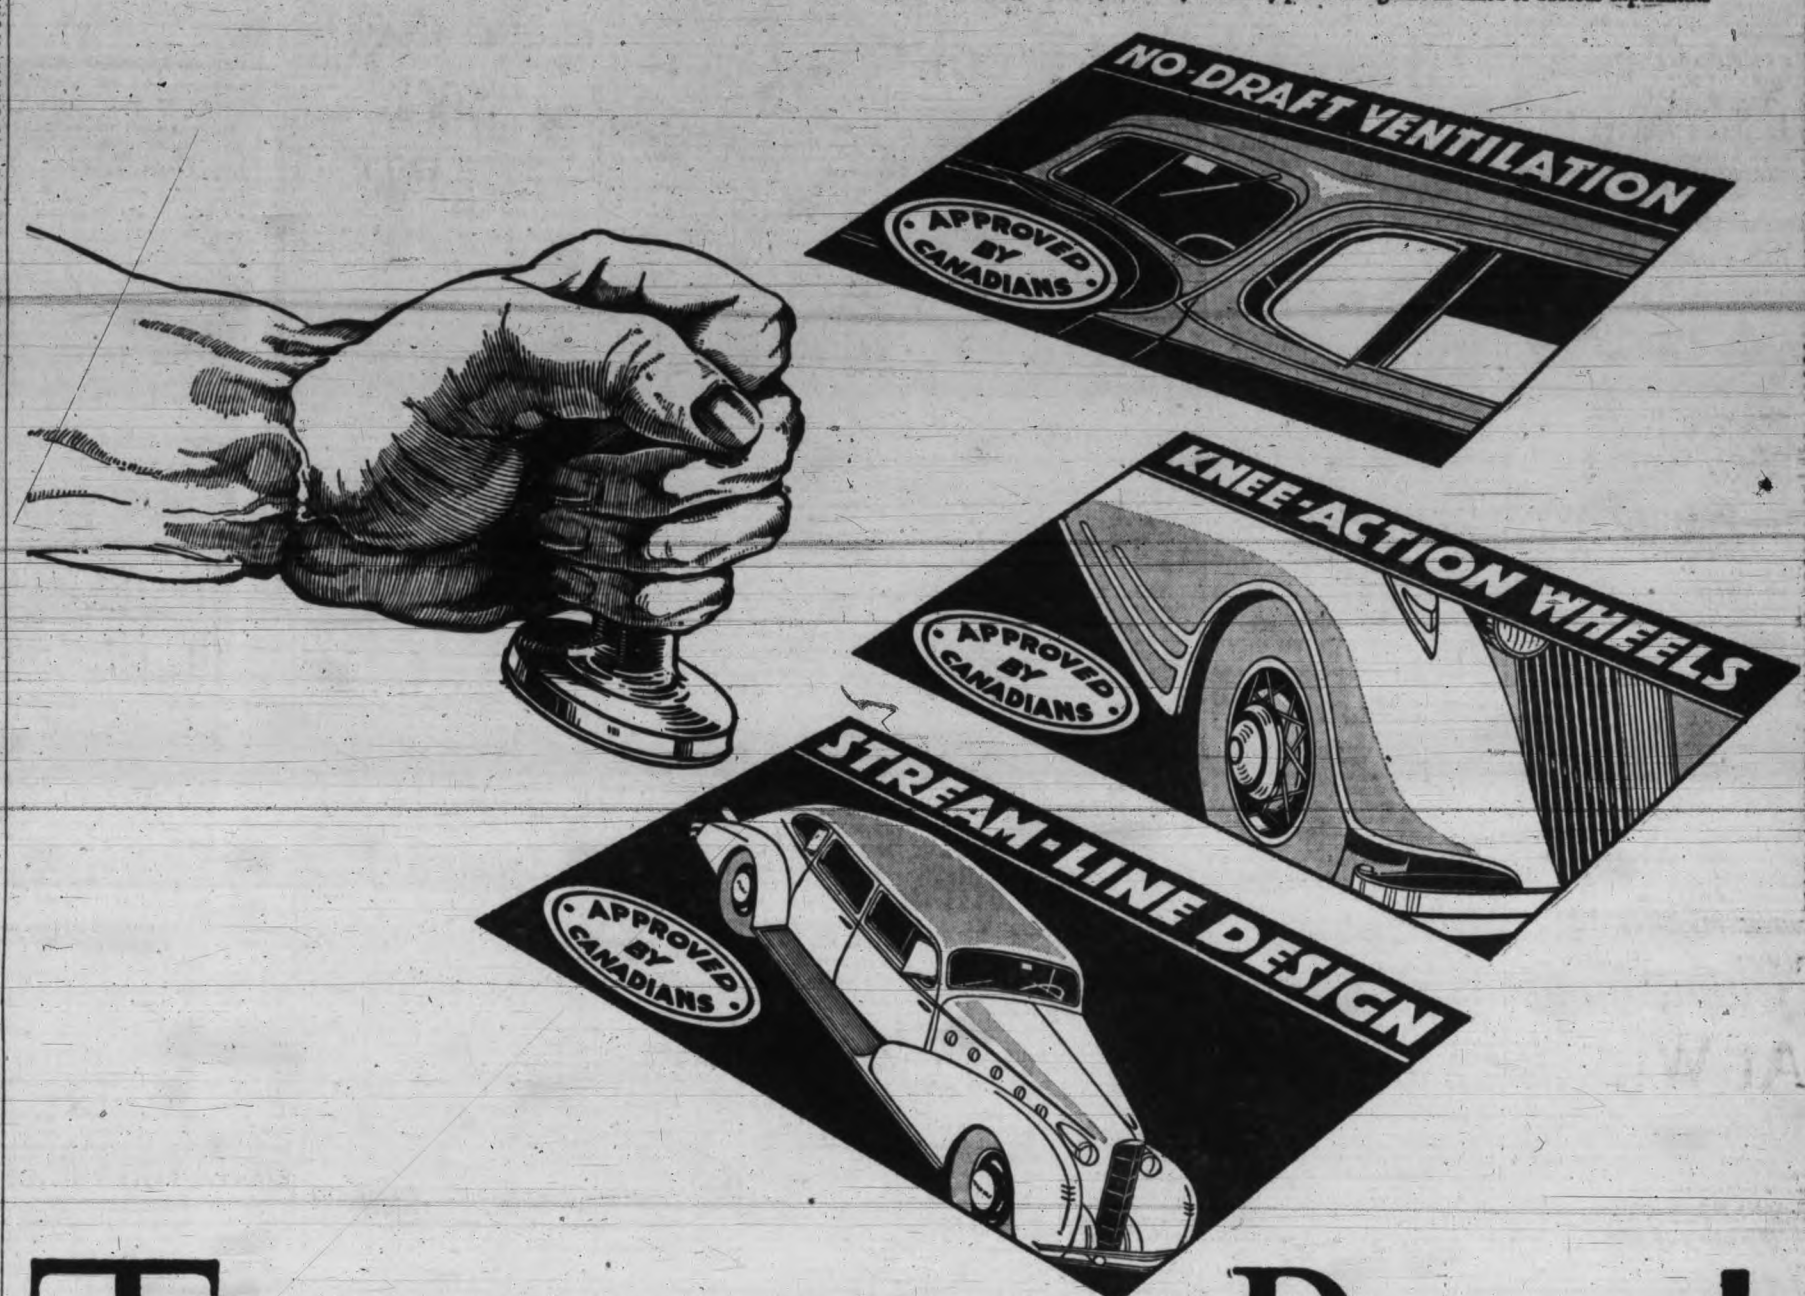

Edmonton Girls Capture Third Straight Game From Windsor 57 to 30

Edmonton, April 30.—Edmonton Grads gained their thirteenth Canadian senior women's basketball championship here Saturday night when they defeated Windsor Alumnas, eastern Canada's best, 57 to 30. It was a three-out-of-five series, Grads taking the first two games 84 to 20 and 47 to 30.

A passing game with a decided edge and the basket territory gave Grads their victory over the Alumnas

"AN EYE TO THE FUTURE - AN EAR TO THE GROUND"

—this describes General Motors' policy, a policy by which the public is given what it wants in better cars year after year, and yet is safely protected against ill-timed or dubious experiments

Three in a Row!

How the well-dressed motor car will look is no longer an engineer's guess.

The Canadian people are settling that question in a fashion no one can mistake.

By their plain-spoken approval of the new General Motors Cars, they have definitely set the vogue for streamlining of mature refinement.

It would be foolish to deny our pleasure at meeting so accurately the public's taste, yet we realize that credit belongs to the public also.

Our successful streamline designs did not leap full-grown into being; they are of deliberate growth, rather than abrupt inspiration.

Years are behind them, years of stern work in laboratory and on proving grounds, a total of experience in automotive design and testing unmatched in the world.

But months before any of our 1934 cars were built, the soundness of our designs found priceless advance verification from the public itself.

The answers of more than 60,000 motorists to our Customer Questionnaires—suggesting changes here and improvements there—told our engineering department just about what people wanted.

And we can cite Knee-Action Wheels, No-Draft Ventilation, Streamline Designs as triumphs "three-in-a-row"—because our will to progress is linked with willingness to listen to the people's own desires.

In the third frame the Alumnas girls could not gain a point while Grads ran their figure up to 40, and in the last quarter the Alumnas rolled in eleven points while Grads sharpshooters found the basket to gain another seventeen.

Gladys Fry, sharp-shooting centre for the Grads, was the high scorer of the game, notching seventeen points, while her team-mate, Margaret MacBurney, followed with sixteen.

The Windsor players spread their points fairly evenly. While Hyttenrauch getting nine, while Jennie Gollab and Mary Richards followed with seven each.

Woodsworth, M.P. of Winnipeg, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, said at a C.C.F. meeting here yesterday evening.

Both the marketing bill and the central bank measures Mr. Woodsworth described as "concessions on the part of the government in an attempt to save the existing economic system."

He prophesied the C.C.F. would poll a large percentage of votes in the coming Saskatchewan general election.

The two old parties in Canada had shown no intention of remedying conditions which find a large percentage of the population in stress, Mr. Woodsworth said, and it was time for a third party to take over.

Famous Russian Painter and Son See Victoria While Jackson in Port

Nicholas Roerich, famous Russian painter, and his son Georges, famous also as a scientist and archeologist, were in Victoria for two hours Saturday afternoon aboard the Orient-bound liner President Jackson. They were en route to China on a mission for the United States government.

During the brief stop of the President Jackson here, the two distinguished Russians took a motor drive about Victoria.

To-day one of the greatest living painters, the senior Roerich is a striking figure, with his flowing white beard and handsome face. For forty-five years he has shown a never-abating energy in his painting and search for new materials. This search has taken him to the four corners of the globe and to many strange and out-of-the-way places.

Roerich Museum

His paintings are to be found in the Louvre in Paris, at Leningrad, in the Victoria and Albert Museum in London, and in the Vatican in Rome. Altogether he has created more than 3,000 paintings, of which 1,000 are in the Roerich Museum in New York City. This museum is a twenty-four story building erected in honor of the great artist and philosopher and is known throughout the world as one of the great cultural centres.

Roerich established his reputation by painting pictures of Russian prehistoric life, and the wanderings of the Vikings. During an expedition to the Altai, China, Russian and Mongolia, some years ago he completed 500 paintings which have been described as a "saga of the East."

Two of his most famous panels, painted in 1916 for the Moscow-Kaan Railway Terminal, and representing two historical events from the ancient history of Russia, were recently destroyed because of their religious significance.

After the Russian revolution of 1917, Roerich left his native land and settled in the United States. He spends a great deal of his time in travel and every few years goes to his great estate in the Himalayas. As his number of his present paintings have been dedicated to the grandeur of these mountains.

After completing his present mission to China, the Roerichs will probably go on to India and spend the summer there before returning to New York in the early winter.

OLD RUM BOAT IS REDEEMED

Retired Lighthouse Keeper Purchases Ex-rum Rafter For Pleasure Craft

Halifax, April 30.—A high-powered rum-raft that used to ply between St. Pierre and Nova Scotia, heavily loaded with liquor for dry-throated Canadians has been reclaimed from the bottom of the Northwest Arm and to-day is sported as a pleasure launch.

"Yo ho and a bottle of rum," sings its jolly skipper, H. A. Gilkie, retired lighthouse keeper at Sambro, who purchased the craft, minus liquor, from preventive officers and equipped it for pleasure cruising.

Landed to the gunwale with "Demara Black Diamond," the speedy boat went down to Davey Jones' locker at the foot of Jubilee Road in the winter of 1932. But she was not doomed to such a dismal and untimely end. Brought to the surface by sea-going Royal Canadian Mounted Police, she was sold at public auction and former Lighthouse Keeper Gilkie was the highest bidder.

Unromantic rum-runners christened "No. 1." Skipper Gilkie soon changed this to Doris II. Equipment includes bunks, electric lights, Diesel and Cadillac V8 engines and woodwork that shines like a well-worn serge suit.

The old lighthouse keeper who retired from active service in 1929 still has the lure of the sea in his blood and his eyes sparkled as they surveyed the trim-lined launch.

"No. 1," Skipper Gilkie said, "when I was on duty at the light this boat might have passed right under my nose!"
